Another cheese giveaway set

People in need may receive their allotment of federal surplus cheese in Romulus during the hours of 11 a.m. until 4 p.m., Wed., April 13 at Beverly Elementary School, 35408 Beverly Rd., officials said today.

Officials also stress that recipients must have proof of income and residency before obtaining the cheese.

Further information may be obtained by telephoning 728-7510.

Head Start seeks children

The Romulus Head Start program is accepting 3 and 4 year olds for their free pre-kindergarten classes. If your child will be three or four before Dec. 1, 1983 and resides within the Romulus Community School District, contact Mrs. K. Darnell at 941-4100 between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Head Start provides eligible children education, dental, medical and nutrition. The pre-schooler may be eligible for the program if the parent receives A.D.C., general assistance or food stamps.

Also, the child may be eligible if he or she is a foster child or handicapped. Romulus Head Start's program offices are located at 39000 Superior Rd.

Wick crafts' sale

Wick Elementary School will host its inaugural Flea & Craft Sale beginning at 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. on Sat., April 30 at the school, 36900 Wick Rd. in Romulus.

Those wishing to rent tables at $10 per should telephone 941-2497.

Play ball

There is still time to register for adult softball leagues. Prospective teams and players should contact the Recreation Offices by telephoning 941-0666, extension 254, for further information.

Floral arrangement

There are still ways to fight back when Mother Nature refuses to bring spring and the flowers and blossoms that tag along with warm weather. Using their time beautifully are seniors in Romulus who have enrolled in a recreation department sponsored floral class. Floral instructor Nina Smitt (at left) offers some tips to Evelyn Kapanowski during one of the classes that meets every Thursday from 1 to 3:30 p.m.

Lewkowicz vs. Youngblood

Council approves resolution to settle county drain lawsuit

Romulus is ready to settle its lawsuit with Wayne County and Drain Commissioner Charles Youngblood. Council adopted a resolution last week directing attorney Harry S. Ellman to accept a proposed settlement.

The litigation stems from a class action lawsuit instituted by the then Romulus treasurer John B. Lewkowicz in 1976 who believed that the county drain commissioner was illegally charging the taxpayers of the city and neighboring communities fees for administrative costs for his (Youngblood's) department.

Lewkowicz was joined in the class action suit by the cities of Lincoln Park, Riverview and the townships of Canton, Huron and Van Buren. They retained Ellman to defend them in the suit.

On March 1, 1983, William Lucas, newly-elected Wayne County Executive, agreed to his corporation counsel's recommendation to settle the lawsuit. Some $600,000 in accumulated escrow monies will be divided between the communities involved of which 40 percent will be earmarked for Romulus; 11 percent to Canton, 9.22 percent to Huron and 6.73 percent to Van Buren.

At the March 29 council meeting, council adopted the appropriate resolution to settle the lawsuit. Voting in favor of the resolution were councilmen John Lewkowicz, Junior Block, Alan Lambert and Mayor Pro Tem Mary Ann Banks. Not present at the meeting were councilmen Jimmie Raspberry, Pete Bergeron and Barry Baumann.

The resolution approved by council read, in part, as follows:

"Whereas, a class action suit on behalf of all past, present and future real property taxpayers located in the cities of Romulus, Lincoln Park, and Riverview, and the townships of Brownstown, Van Buren and Canton that have been or may be assessed, by special assessment or at large, for the maintenance and repair of drains pursuant to Chapter 8 of the Drain Code of 1956, as amended, was filed for the County of Wayne v Charles N. Youngblood, Wayne County Commissioner, Wayne County Board of Commissioners, County of Wayne and Wayne County Treasurer, and...

"Whereas, there have been six and one-half years of extensive litigation, and...

"Whereas, there exists the prospect of at least five, six or more years of further litigation of the proposed settlement is not accepted, and...

"Whereas, it is the considered opinion of Counsel that the proposed settlement is most desirable at this time,

"Now, therefore be it resolved, that the City of Romulus does hereby authorize Attorney H.S. Ellman to accept the proposed settlement in the matter of the City of Romulus et al v Youngblood et al. this being the most expeditious solution for all parties."

Council gets a glimpse of mayor's budget

Romulus City Council last night took a glimpse of Mayor William M. Oakley's proposed budget for the 1983-84 fiscal year and found no surprises. There is a small decrease in the tax levy for taxpayers however.

The decreases largely due to a .2 of a mill decline in the amount the Peoples Community Hospital Authority will charge affiliated cities and communities.

Mayor Oakley pointed out in a statement to council "that there are several factors which I would like to call your attention to and which I would suggest you consider prior to your discussion on the budget."

One of the key factors in the budget was the negative influence the economy has had on revenues.

"As you know," Oakley stated, "our assessor's office has determined that, due to negative economic influences, our residential real estate values have decreased by 6.38 percent."

"This decrease is directly resulting in an equal decrease in the amount of city taxes which we are asking our residential users to pay, and will result in the fact that we will have to limit our capital expenditures."

The mayor's proposed city tax levy will stand at 10.38 mills (a mill is $1 per $1,000 of assessed property valuation). The 10.38 mills is .27 mills less than was levied during the 1982-83 fiscal year.

The mayor is urging that 9.2 mills continue to be levied for general operations, and .7 mills for sanitation, while there is a slight decrease for drains from .35 mills of a year ago to .28 mills for the upcoming fiscal year. PCHA has lowered its levy from .4 to .2 mills.

"Our total projected revenues in the proposed budget are 3.9 percent less than the 1982-83 proposed budget are 3.9 percent less than the 1982-83 projected revenues due to a number of factors, including the decreased residential valuations, decreased millage, cutbacks in federal and state revenue sharing and decreased anticipated interest income," Mayor Oakley said.

"Our anticipated expenditures have increased slightly, mainly due to inflationary factors. For instance, we are expecting a 25 percent increase in our employees' hospitalization insurance coverage, a factor over which we have no control."

Mayor Oakley summed up by saying that he was pleased with the proposed budget.

"We have prepared an accurate fiscal plan which we can use as a guide to manage our community finances in the coming year."

Police probe infant's death

Romulus police today are investigating the death of a 2-year-old infant girl who died of head injuries Saturday.

Police said that hospital authorities informed them that the head injuries could have deliberately been inflicted on the child.

"We're investigating a case of child abuse that is a possible homicide," said Romulus Police Chief Donald Flood. "At the present moment, no warrants have been issued, but doctors strongly believe that the death was not accidental."

Police said that the infant's parents took the child to Annapolis Hospital on Friday informing officials that their child was hurt. Annapolis transferred the infant to Children's Hospital where the victim succumbed on Saturday.

Former ANP publisher Robson dead at 70

Lewis Robson, former publisher of the Associated Newspapers, died on Saturday after a long illness in St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Robson, 70, joined Ray Clift as co-publisher of the weekly chain of local newspapers in 1950 and helped make them one of the best in the state. Under Robson and Clift's guidance, the Associated Newspapers captured many press awards.

"He was just an excellent man and a fine person to work for," said Bert Osterberg, display sales manager of the Belleville Enterprise and the Romulus Roman, two of the newspapers published by the ANP.

"Of late he had been very sick and I know that I speak for our entire staff when I say that we are sorry to

Huron OKs $1 million budget

Public Safety to receive $586,000

A $1,096,036 budget for Huron Township in fiscal 1983-84 was approved at a meeting of the Board last week.

The unanimous vote at a special session was held a few days after the March 26 Annual Meeting of the Township.

Roughly 53 percent of the new budget, $586,466, has been appropriated for public safety. The bulk of the appropriations will be earmarked for the salaries and maintenance of the police, fire, communications, and ordinance enforcement.

The next major cost, $297,270, is an expenditure for running the total general township government. This amounts to 27 percent of the budget.

This year's budget is less than last year's by about $30,000. The decrease is due in part to cuts, if perhaps slight, in many areas.

But the major drop in cost was the reduction in assessment by the P.C.H.A. (People's Community Hospital Authority) from $35,600 last year to $22,595 this year — a savings of $13,105 to the community.

However, utilities, insurance, and fringe benefits continued their climb, blunting the paring of the budget.

No salary increases of any significance marked the new budget. But the positions of Township Supervisor, Clerk, and Treasurer were each granted a $950 increment, the fourth in roughly 12 years, bringing their salaries to $17,500, $15,200, and $15,200 respectively.

A substantial chunk of revenue to help pay for the newly adopted budget is from State Revenue Sharing, $395,422, up from last year's $336,514 — a difference of $58,908.

Federal Revenue Sharing, on the other hand, is down, from last year's $144,360 to this year's $132,620.

This latter development is a bleak note for Huron Township officials since they pin much of their hope for financing on increased state and federal money, they pointed out.

Another development which could make Huron Township financing more difficult is an expected decrease in revenue due to a 6.3 percent reduction in evaluation of residential property.

The evaluation is determined by the state. Property is being evaluated lower generally because of the economic status of the state of Michigan, and the reduction of residential property sales.

Huron Township could also be doubly affected because of a reduction in evaluation of agricultural properties as well. Resident farmers with ten acres or more of farmland who are making a living off their land will get a 15 percent reduction on their evaluation.

This means less revenue. These reductions are to start on the 1983 tax bills.

Ironically, reduction of evaluation is a goal township government works for in the interest of the local resident. Part of the consequence of course is a reduction of revenue to run the township.

To cope with increased costs, Huron Township officials look to Lansing and Washington. Not surprisingly, their hope is laced with caution.

"We are hoping for an increase in state and federal revenue," said Township Clerk Mary Lou Carey, "but we have not figured on an increase."

500 kids join WC3 for Easter egg hunt

About 500 children came through the doors of Wayne County Community College's Western Center last Wednesday, looking for the Easter Bunny, candy and cartoons at the college's "First Annual Easter Egg Hunt."

"The community response was overwhelming", said Student Services Director Janet Maxey. "We could have never done it without the generous contributions from local businesses".

Belleville's Chatham, Haywards, A & P, Wyandotte Savings, John Sexton, & Co., Drs. Patrick Barrett and Sherman Kane, Wayne's Kroger, A & P, D & C Store, Norwayne Drugs and Mr. Riggs Store together donated about 30 pounds of candy and numerous supplies.

McDonalds of Romulus served orange drink. Bee's Costume Shop of Garden City donated the Easter Bunny costume.

Livonia's Kroger, the Meijers Thrifty Acres of Taylor and several local banks were also among the contributing businesses.

Look who's here

Getting a big hug from the Easter bunny is 2-year-old Curtis Beaty, of Belleville, one of 500 children who turned up last week to participate in Wayne County Community College's egg hunt. The huge turnout caught WC3 school officials by surprise who said that "the community response was overwhelming." In the photo below are just a few of the 500 who came looking for Easter eggs.

From Michigan Bell

New directory has new features

Michigan Bell's 1983-84 West-Northwest telephone directory — currently being distributed to area homes and businesses — is loaded with features to help customers save time and money.

Haze Wilson, Michian Bell's local corporate affairs manager, said the customer guide pages in the front of the new directory contain valuable information, including tips on dialing long distance calls direct and taking advantage of discount periods and toll-free numbers.

The new directory again contains a section of money-saving coupons that can be used at area businesses. The coupons section — the Gold Pages — is located at the back of the Yellow Pages and contains a number of coupons that can be redeemed for discounts and free merchandise.

Scattered throughout the Yellow Pages are numerous consumer tips such as how to reduce home heating costs and how to determine shopping bargains.

Large, boldface business listings in the white pages "allow businesses to put extra emphasis on their listings and also help customers find numbers more easily," Wilson noted.

The new book also encourages customers to "call first" when doing business with Michian Bell, Wilson said.

"Since we have fewer walk-in customer offices today, we're urging customers to call us first to avoid possible frustration and the inconvenience of wasted trips," he said.

Customers wanting to order equipment, service or who have question about their bills should call the service representative number printed at the bottom of their phone bills, Wilson said.

The cover of the new directory features a photo of the annual Labor Day walk across the Mackinac Bridge and carries the message "Say yes to Michigan!"

Commissioner urges extension of revenue sharing programs

Wayne County Commissioner Kay Beard (D-12th District), in testimony before a Congressional Hearing in Ferndale, urged the continuation of federal revenue sharing that means $180 million to the State of Michigan.

Commissioner Beard, speaking for the Michigan Association of Counties and Chairperson of the MAC Committee on Social Services and Aging, appeared before Congressman Sander Levin at the early morning session to argue the case for continued revenue sharing and the need for revamping the current formulas that create a disparity of funds reaching Michigan.

"Although this state is the fifth largest contributor of tax dollars going to Washington," Beard said, "it is the last state in the union in the percentage of revenue sharing funds being returned."

"Nearly 60 percent of the General Revenue Sharing (GRS) dollar goes directly to the operations of Public Safety, Health, Social Services to the poor and aged, Environmental, Conservation, Financial Administration, Public Transportation, Libraries and Recreation," Beard explained.

"For 20 years Michigan has tolerated federal fund losses due to matching formulas and defense spending," the Commissioner said, "but, now when our primary industry is facing a major depression and the state has barely weathered 37 consecutive months of double digit unemployment, the situation is no longer tolerable — and certainly is not manageable."

"In the first two years of President Reagan's New Federalism, Michigan has lost $3.21 billion in federal support. Because of high salaries paid to those lucky enough to be employed, this state continues to be one of the top five states sending tax dollars to Washington — $23.7 billion in 1980, but the last of the 50 states in getting assistance ($15.4 billion in 1980). Michigan's $7 billion loss is greater than the state's entire general fund budget," Beard stressed.

"President Reagan's economic recovery program has added an extra burden to Michigan's already faltering economy. Further reductions in low income energy assistance, winterization, Trade Readjustment Act payments, urban redevelopment and CETA has hurt the industrial states of the midwest disproportionately and Michigan in particular," she pointed out.

While Michigan's governors and legislators have cut the state budget by 20 percent, reduced the state work force by 12,000 employees since 1979, increased individual income taxes and gasoline taxes, the state, partly because of the $7 billion loss in revenue sharing dollars, must continue to suffer cut-backs in education, social services, mental and health programs — all gutted because of antiquated matching formulas.

"The formulas, developed in the late 50's and early 60's, emphasized per capita wealth, but do not recognize such factors as unemployment, tax effort, cost of differentials or related welfare burdens," Beard continued: "To give you an example of the sharp disparity, Michigan currently received 50 percent federal match for ADFC (Aid to Families with Dependent Children) and Medicaid. The sunbelt states get 60 percent for these same programs. If this state had an equivalent match, it would realize an additional $244 million in Federal Medicaid dollars alone."

Mrs. Beard continued, "As if these antiquated formulas were not creating enough havoc with Michigan's economy, add to this a huge imbalance in the distribution of defense spending which heavily favors the southern and western states. In fact," she said, "estimates indicate that 80 percent of domestic defense dollars are spent in the south and west."

"The proposed military budget this year is $221 billion — Michigan's share will be $6,458 billion in 1983 — a loss to Michigan of $17.8 million per day or $125 million per week."

Concluded Beard: "Everyone of Michigan's 83 counties has suffered because of these revenue sharing inequities, none, perhaps, more than Wayne County, which has seen its revenue sharing dollars drop each year from $15 million in 1972 to slightly over $11 million today."

"Michigan Counties, through MAC, is urging favorable action by this congressional committee to insure the survival and enhancement of this key source of support for services much in need today," Beard added.

Congressman Levin is seeking testimony to support his recommendations for continued GRS for Michigan.

Sumpter to debate proposed budget, federal sharing funds

Sumpter Township officials will put the finishing touches on their Federal Revenue Sharing Funds and discuss the proposed township budget for the fiscal year 1983-84 at a public hearing scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on Tues., April 12.

Residents are urged to attend the meeting and offer input into the proposed items.

"The public hearing on the intended use of Federal Revenue Sharing Funds will give the citizens an opportunity to ask questions and get answers from elected officials," said Louis P. Banotai, township clerk.

The proposed use of $110,500 in FRSF as outlined by the township is as follows:

The township will put to use $49,000 for environmental protection such as rubbish pick-up, and $51,000 is earmarked for police salaries while $10,000 will go to wages for the fire department.

The recreation department will receive $500 of the $110,500.

For further information about the budget or the federal revenue sharing proposal contact Banotai at 461-6201.

Van Buren to hold tornado safety class

The Van Buren fire-fighters will team up with the Van Buren Public Schools on April 16 to conduct a "tornado awareness" program at Belleville High School.

The program will get underway at 1 p.m. and will stress safety during th time of inclement weather. Guest speaker is C. Robert Snider of the National Weather Service.

Snider will conduct a "Skywarn" spotter training class and will outline what steps residents should take to protect themselves during severe storms.

"Increased public awareness of tornado safety can save lives," said Bill Forbush, of the Van Buren Fire Department, "therefore, it is important that residents learn the necessary steps to safeguard against such incidents."

MOUTHWASH WON'T REMOVE "FILM"

TV ads will tell you that mouthwash will remove the "morning film" on your teeth. But you won't find a dentist who will agree with that! They opt for good flossing and a well-placed toothbrush for clean teeth and healthy gums.

Plaque is a colorless film that adheres to the teeth, especially along the gum line and in tooth crevices. This coating is only ONE of the sources of bad breath. More importantly, it contains bacteria that combine with sugar to form acids which create decay and irritate gums.

Brushing correctly is important, but flossing is also essential to be sure you get at all those places where plaque can hide. Plaque is invisible but it CAN be made brightly visible. It's not done by magic. It's done by disclosing tablets. They're made out of red food coloring which adheres to the plaque and colors what you missed bright red. Once you've discovered your problem areas, brush and floss until the red is gone. Remember, elbow grease, flossing and brushing remove "film", not mouthwash.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

By John Brimble

Chicken pieces dipped in melted butter, then rolled in seasoned crumbs, can "fry" in a 375° oven for an hour to beautiful crunchiness.

There are stuffed peppers — and then there are crisp peppers stuffed with cold blanched broccoli, carrot slices, pepper strips, and onion. Wow! Top with garlic cream dressing.

Nuts keep better in the shell, several months in the refrigerator, for years in the freezer. To re-crisp them, heat in a low oven.

Roll cakes should be rolled up while still warm, or they may break. (Unroll when cooled to fill with whipped cream or ice cream.)

Add homemade flavor to canned chicken broth. Simmer a half hour with onion, celery, and carrot.

Republic Airlines to help put 'Romulus on the map'

Although thousands of people fly out of and land each day at Metropolitan Airport, few realize that the internationally known airport is located in Romulus.

And there's an airline now that wants that fact to be recognized.

Named for the legendary founder of Rome, the city was at one time identified as a habitat for wolves. The city's modern identity is often overshadowed by the airport, but Republic Airlines is doing its share to put Romulus back into the spotlight.

In order to promote the Romulus Community Pride 10-K, Republic is offering a free round-trip ticket for two to any of its 160 domestic locations.

The prize will be awarded by drawing at conclusion of the race to a properly entered, participating runner. The runner must be present at the drawing to win and have positive identification.

An additional prize will be a weekend for two at the beautiful, glass enclosed Holiday Inn located at the Airport Holiday Inn, I-94 and Wickam, in Romulus.

Each runner will also receive a montage bag compliments of Delta Airlines. Pepsi-Cola will furnish refreshments at the end of the race.

Also, additional assistance will be given by Central Distributors, area representative of Budweiser Light, who invites you to "Bring Out Your Best."

The race will kick off Michigan Week festivities in Romulus. It is sponsored by Capac Kasama, a local industrial realty and management company.

City Recreation Director, Dennis Davidson, is director of the race and may be contacted at 941-0666 ext. 254 for further details.

The pre-registration fee is $3 by May 12. Registration on the day of the race is $5. An advertisement and entry blank are included in this month's issue of Michigan Runner.

Police seek murder suspect

Sumpter Township police and Washtenaw County detectives have intensified their search for a gunman or gunmen who murdered a 25-year-old township man last week.

The victim, John Duane Fields, who resided with his stepfather and mother in a dwelling on Rawsonville Rd., was found shot to death in the rear compartment of his father's vehicle.

Fields died of multiple gunshot wounds to the back of the head, according to the Wayne County Medical Examiner's report.

Sumpter Township Police Chief Clinton Brown said that the department is assisting the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department in the investigation.

"We do not know at this time whether the victim was shot here and driven to Washtenaw or killed in that county," Chief Brown said. "There have been several persons questioned about the homicide but no one has been charged as far as I know."

"We are urging any one with any information to step forward and offer us that information," Chief Brown added. No motive has been established for the slaying.

According to Cpl. Wanda Elden, of the Sumpter Police Department, Fields was first reported missing on March 29 by his parents, Henry R. Ely and Clara Ely.

The Elys had filed a stolen vehicle and missing person report with the township police department. Fields had left home in his parents' 1981 Ford Escort.

On March 30, the reported stolen vehicle was spotted at the Grove Street Market in Washtenaw County and the county sheriffs immediately impounded it. The car was towed to the Waters Street station in Ypsilanti.

After the Elys were notified that their car had been recovered, but their son was not in it, they immediately grew suspicious. They convinced Chief Brown and Cpl. Elden that their son would not have abandoned the car, that foul play was involved.

Chief Brown and Elden made the trip to Ypsilanti and looked over the vehicle. The car had not been locked and after a closer inspection the body was discovered in the rear compartment or hatchback area.

Washtenaw has assigned detectives Joseph Hall and David Randolph to the case. Persons with information should telephone the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Tip Line at 973-7711.

Players to hold benefits

The Centennial Educational Players have slated two fundraisers in April to help send 11 students to the International Spectrum Theatre Festival in Villach, Austria, this June.

Scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. Saturday, April 16, in the Canton High School "cafetorium" is the Catch a Rising Star amateur night, which will feature professional entertainment in addition to amateur performances.

Eligible to enter is anyone who pays a $2 performer fee. The contest is not limited to Canton or Salem students.

The evening will begin with an hour-long performance by a 12-piece stage band and other professional talent, and the amateurs will take over at 8 p.m.

The cafetorium will be set up like a night club, a spokesperson said, and food will be served. There will be a $2 "cover charge."

Persons interested in performing should contact Gloria Logan at 453-3100, ext. 243, between 10:30 a.m. and noon on weekdays. Registrations also will be taken at 6:30 p.m. on the night of the show.

The Players will sponsor a "Have Your Garage Sale in Our Garage" event from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, April 23, in the grand hallway of Salem High School's lower level.

The sale will be a combination craft show and flea market. The rental fee will be $10, plus the donation of one item to be sold at the Players' own booth.

Those wishing to reserve a booth should contact Logan.

Barden, Associated step into future

Don H. Barden, president of Barden Cablevision of Inkster, and David J. Willett, president of The Associated Newspapers, have reached an agreement this week to provide cable television subscribers in Inkster with daily local news programming and a bi-weekly cable magazine which will offer listings of all upcoming programming on the Barden Cablevision system.

Community Vision Cable (CVC), an affiliate of The Associated Newspapers, which publishes The Inkster Ledger Star, is scheduled to commence programming of local news, sports and information on a daily basis next month. The channel for such news has yet to be determined.

According to the terms of the pact, CVC also will publish the Barden Cablevision Cable Magazine for approximately 4,000 subscribers. Scheduled to begin May 2, the magazine will include comprehensive listings of upcoming local and national programming, as well as local feature articles and advertising messages from local businesses. The magazine will be mailed to subscribers on a bi-weekly schedule at a cost of $1.50 per month.

"This magazine will be a thorough, customized guide that promotes cable locally and television in general," said Barden, who was raised and educated in Inkster. "It will better handle local programming and also give us better flexibility for editorial content."

"Our subscribers will be better off ... it's a tremendous value," he added.

Willett noted that the cable magazine will provide "a timely breakdown of program information, not only of satellite services but of locally originated programming as well."

"We're delighted to be working with a company with the foresight and vision that Don Barden's company has," added Willett. "For the first time the citizens of Inkster will be able to receive local news and information through their television sets."

"There's a revolution sweeping the country that will change the way people communicate and receive their news and information. We plan to be a part of that revolution and we anticipate great things in the future as a result of this new relationship with Barden Cablevision."

Barden, who also serves as president of Barden Communications, Inc., has established the national headquarters for his cablevision company at 26380 Michigan Ave., in Inkster. The system represents the first black-owned cable TV network in Michigan.

In addition to the Inkster franchise, Barden will operate local cable television franchises in Romulus and Van Buren Township. His company has been cited as the frontrunner to receive the prestigious Detroit franchise, scheduled to be awarded later this year.

Referring to the new CVC operated local news channel, Barden said, "Providing local news is in keeping with the spirit of providing as much local programming as possible. We're pleased to be working with The Associated Newspapers, which has an excellent reputation for local news service."

CVC also provides local news, sports and information for subscribers to the Group W Cable system in Wayne on cable channel 50 and for subscribers to the Omnicom system serving Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Canton Township, Northville and Northville Township on cable channel nine.

David Willett and Don Barden examine their joint venture agreement

Along with the Inkster Ledger Star, The Associated Newspapers publishes The Wayne Eagle, The Westland Eagle, The Belleville Enterprise, The Romulus Roman and The Canton Eagle.

Willett said that local businesses will be contacted in the near future for involvement in the new Barden Cablevision Cable Magazine, as well as their local Inkster news channel.

Armed Forces

George D. Buhro, 18, son of Frank and Elinor Buhro, 10061 Hamilton, Belleville, has entered the U.S. Air Force's Delayed Enlistment Program (Dep).

According to Technical Sergeant Ed Lehmann, the Air Force recruiter, Buhro's entry into the DEP serves two purposes. First, it allows the Air Force to schedule an opening for him to attend basic training and be assigned to a job or skill area. Second, the DEP enables Buhro, a 1982 graduate of Belleville High School, to wrap up his personal affairs before leaving home.

Buhro will enter the Regular Air Force on Aug. 25. Following graduation from the six-week basic training course at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., he will receive technical training in the mechanical aptitude area and be assigned to an Air Force duty station.

Airman William O. Chamberlain, son of Robert L. and Grace E. Chamberlain of 47515 Bemis Road, Belleville, has completed Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

The airman, who is remaining at Lackland for specialized training in the security police field, studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

Completion of this training earned the individual credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

He is a 1982 graduate of Belleville high school.

Army Reserve Pvt. Charles M. Carr, son of Margrett Stoddard of 26289 Rogell, New Boston, has completed basic training at Fort Dix, N.J.

During the training, students received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

Marine Pfc. Rayond E. Summers, son of Kenneth R. Summers of 43200 Willow Road, New Boston and Alice Amanda Summers of 43970 Judd Road, Belleville, has reported for duty with the 1st Marine Division, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Hydropower on Huron River

"Hydropower on the Huron" will be the topic of a program sponsored by the Huron River Watershed Council. The program is part of the Watershed Council's annual meeting, and is scheduled for Thurs., April 21, at 7 p.m., and will be held at Lawton Elementary School, 2250 S. Seventh Street, Ann Arbor.

Dan Hanlon from the Ann Arbor City engineering Office is the featured speaker, and will discuss the city's plans for converting city dams back to hydropower generation. He will also address the effects these modifications will have on river flow, water supply and recreation.

The business portion of the Huron River Watershed Council's annual meeting will follow the informational program. The program and meeting are open to the public, and attendance by interested basin residents and community officials is encouraged.

For further information and directions to Lawton School, contact Marcia Dorsey, Executive Director, at the Watershed Council office, 769-5123.

Fighting back

Purse snatchers move fast

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the second of a series of articles written by Patrolman Cathy Horste of the Van Buren Township Police Department's Crime Prevention Bureau. Mrs. Horste also serves as the State Crime Reduction Chairman for the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs.)

By CATHY HORSTE

A lot of the younger people today are alert, agile and fast on their feet. Excellent qualities for someone on the athletic field?

Absolutely, but they are also talents being misused by many youths to make a dishonest dollar...by purse snatching.

These youthful criminals are constantly looking for an opportunity...a chance to grab an unguarded purse from an unsuspecting person and to take off with it after meeting little or no resistance.

To discourage these young criminals and to avoid the loss of valuables and the headaches involved in replacing driver's licenses and in obtaining new credit cards, keep the following suggestions in mind:

- Don't carry a purse if you don't have to do so. Consider carrying valuables and other necessary items in a pocket instead.

- Don't make yourself a particularly desirable mark by displaying a lot of money or leaving your purse open so that money and valuables are plainly visible.

- Be particularly alert when leaving a bank, 24-hour money machine or other locations where people frequently obtain money or something of value.

- Don't put your purse down and allow your attention to be diverted from it. When carrying bags, packages or other items, carry your purse between these items and your body.

- When walking, carry your purse close to your body with your hand over the clasp to make the purse harder to grab and, therefore, less inviting. Shoulder bags should be carried in much the same way.

- Avoid wrapping the purse strap around your wrist or arm. If the purse snatcher struggles for the purse, you might be injured. It isn't worth serious injury to thwart a determined criminal.

Be conscious of the security of your purse at all times. Making your purse a less attractive target for the purse snatcher will discourage him from victimizing you.

Anyone who needs more information on this or other crime prevention topics should contact Van Buren Township Police Department Detective Bureau (attention: Officer Cathy Horste), 699-2003.

SUMPTER TOWNSHIP PUBLIC HEARING MINUTES

Public Hearing Held on March 26, 1983

Public Hearing opened by Supervisor Reeves with the pledge of allegiance to the flag at 12:30 P.M. Roll Call Showing:

Present: Supervisor Reeves, Clerk Banotai and Trustees: Bevins, Huziak and Morgan.

Absent: Treasurer Hoffman and Trustee Humphreys.

Excused: Treasurer Hoffman and Trustee Humphreys.

Also present: Attorney Turnbull, Deputy Clerk Sienko and 7 interested citizens.

Motion by Morgan, supported by Huziak to accept the agenda. Motion carried unanimously.

Agenda

1. Pledge
2. Roll Call
3. Approval of Agenda
4. Discussion on Proposed Use of Federal Revenue Sharing Funds and General Fund Budget
5. Adjournment

Supervisor Reeves opened the discussion on the Federal Revenue Sharing Funds and the General Fund Budget.

Morgan asked if the motion to set aside $21,250.00 each year until 1986 should be rescinded, since it has been taken out of the budget. The money was to be set aside to help pay the cost of a new fire truck for the fire department.

Reeves recommended the motion remain the same and not act on it now. It may be put into future budgets, if the monies becomes available.

Banotai stated that there will be a deficit of $125,000 if something isn't cut from the budget.

Motion by Huziak, supported by Banotai, to let the motion stand to set aside $21,250 annually for the next five years toward the cost of a new fire truck. Powell asked why there was no monies in Capital Outlay for the Firemen. Reeves stated that if the money was there it would be given to them.

Motion by Huziak, supported by Morgan, to accept the Proposed General Fund Budget. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Morgan, supported by Banotai, to accept the Federal Revenue Sharing Fund 1983-84 Budget of $110,500 as proposed. Motion carried unanimously.

5. Motion by Morgan, supported by Banotai, to adjourn the Public Hearing. Hearing adjourned at 12:45 P.M.

Respectfully submitted, Louis P. Banotai, Clerk

Wyandotte Savings promotions

Tinsey, Page appointed vice-presidents

Six bank officer appointments have been announced by Wyandotte Savings Bank, following an organizational meeting of the Board of Directors of the 111-year-old financial institution.

Appointed as assistant vice-presidents were Jack Tinsley and Richard Page, while Robert Curtis and Donald Douglas were named as loan officers, Stephen Orr as assistant trust officer and the bank's compliance officer, and Lloyd Smock, WSB's vice-president and branch administrator, was appointed security officer.

The newly appointed assistant vice-president of the bank's electronic data processing department, Tinsley began his employment with WSB in 1966 as a member of that department, where he served in computer operation and systems programming.

As manager of the bank's electronic data processing department since 1977, Tinsley was named an officer of the Bank in 1980. Tinsley is a member of the Wyandotte Lodge 170 Free and Accepted Mason and is a recipient of the Wyandotte Jaycee's "Spoke" Award.

During his association with Wyandotte Savings Bank, Tinsley has attended courses through the Southeastern Michigan American Institute of Banking, and has completed studies in electronic data processing.

Assistant vice-president, Richard A. Page, the bank's personnel director, joined WSB in 1978 after several years affiliation in personnel management in an out-state financial institution. Page earned an associates degree in business administration from Henry Ford Community College and a bachelor's degree in business management from Detroit College of Business. His memberships include the Southeastern Michigan Chapter-American Institute of Banking and the Employers Association of Detroit.

Appointed as loan officer in the bank's commercial loan department is Wyandotte resident, Curtis, who previously served as the bank's manager of credit services and assistant trust officer. Curtis joined WSB in 1970 as a management trainee following employment with a Detroit financial institution.

Curtis attended the Detroit Institute of Technology, the Detroit College of Business, and earned his bachelor's degree in business administration from Wayne State University. Active in community affairs, the new commercial loan officer is a director of the Wyandotte Rotary Club, chairman of the City of Wyandotte Retirement Commission, a member of the Robert Morris Association and the Wyandotte Knights of Columbus 1802 Council.

A past member of the Wyandotte Jaycees, Curtis was a recipient of the United States Jaycee's "Spoke" Award.

Appointed as a loan officer in WSB's installment loan department is Douglas. A life-long resident of the Downriver area, Douglas joined WSB in 1977 as a management trainee, and was assigned to the Bank's installment loan department in 1978. Douglas earned his bachelor of science degree in business administration, with a concentration in management, from Wayne State University, and has earned a basic and standard certificate from the Southeastern Michigan Chapter-American Institute of Banking, where he is recently completing studies for his advanced certificate.

Douglas is a member of the Bethesda Baptist Church in Allen Park, where he is active in the choir. In his new position, Douglas will direct the Bank's student loan program.

Appointed assistant trust officer and compliance officer of Wyandotte Savings Bank is Orr, who joined WSB in December 1982. Orr, a life-long Wyandotte resident and graduate of Theodore Roosevelt High School, earned a bachelor of art degree from Olivet College and his juris doctor degree from Ohio Northern University. In addition to trust account servicing, Orr will have responsibilities in the areas of Bank Regulatory Compliance and Legal Matters.

Before joining the Bank, Orr had his own law firm in Wyandotte; and previous to that was a partner in the law firm of Look, Orr, Kalmbach, P.C.

Orr is a member of the Michigan and American Bar Associations, American Judicature Society, and has been an arbitrator for the American Arbitration Association. A past member of the faculty of the American Institute of Banking, he also is a past director of the Wyandotte Rotary Club and a member of the Merchants Association of Wyandotte.

Named as the bank's security officer, is WSB's vice-president and branch administrator, Smock. Smock, well-known in community and banking circles, joined WSB in 1971, and is presently responsible for operations of the Bank's 14 Branch Offices. Smock attended Western Michigan University, and received his pre-standard, standard, and graduate certificates through the Southeastern Michigan Chapter-American Institute of Banking.

Smock is a member of the Banking Administration Institute, Pennsalt Club, Wyandotte Post 1136 Veterans of Foreign Wars, Edward C. Headman American Legion Post 217, Wyandotte Chapter 370 Order of the Eastern Star, and the Wyandotte Lodge 170 Free and Accepted Mason, where he serves on the Board of Trustees.

WSB, which has operated continuously since its incorporation in 1871, lists assets of nearly $290,000,000 and serves the communities of Wyandotte, Brownstown Township, Dearborn Heights, Romulus, Taylor and Van Buren Township with 15 banking offices.

GM gets defense contract

The General Motors Corporation, 3650 Van Born Road, of Romulus, has received a contract totaling $75,218 from the Defense Construction Supply Center (DCSC) in Columbus, Ohio.

The large business will provide crankshaft helical gear to U.S. military units around the world.

A field installation of the Defense Logistics Agency in Washington, D.C., DCSC buys and manages vehicular repair parts and construction equipment and material used in common by the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps.

Romulus boosters seek items

If you have "packmania," which is most frequently exhibited by the species commonly known as the packrat — you may be interested in the Romulus Booster's Auction.

The Booster club will hold its second annual auction on June 8 on the Romulus Senior High School front lawn. This year's auctioneer is Fred "Junior" Block, Romulus City Councilman.

A vast assortment of items — ranging from bikes to sinks — will be auctioned to raise funds to help support Romulus High School's athletic program.

The Boosters need donations of items of value (but not clothing).

Anyone who has recently been cured of "packmania" or who finds a surplus of goods laying around the house while spring cleaning can donate items which could be auctioned off by calling Mary King at 941-1441.

Open House planned

WC3 to roll out 'the carpet'

If you have ever thought about becoming a vocational student, or enrolling in a course to improve your current on-the-job skills, you will have a chance to learn what it is all about on Thurs., April 7, at Wayne Community College's Western Center, 9555 Haggerty Road.

An Open House will be held in the Main Lobby from 3 to 4 p.m., where a supply of financial aid, admission and career program information will be available with experienced student services staff to answer questions.

Faculty members from various WC3 career programs will also be present to discuss their particular vocations.

Reservation registration is now underway and will continue until May 8. This special registration allows students to purchase a permit which reserves a specific time and day convenient for them to register.

Refreshments will be served and tours of the facility will be conducted. For further information you may call the Western Center Student Services Office at 699-0216.

Spain awaits

Belleville students plan trip to historic European capital

A group of lucky Belleville High School students are beginning to get excited. They know that on June 20 they will find themselves boarding a 747 bound for Spain.

Students participating in the adventure include Mary Ann Walters, Nick Figarra, Mike Kirda, Glenda Allen, Steven Chobot, Mildred Delaney, Chris Beresford, Mary Newton and Margaret Terraras.

The educational trip begins in the Spanish capital, Madrid, where the students get their first exposure to Spanish culture.

While in Madrid, the students will travel to the nearby town of Segovia where they will view the famous Roman aqueduct.

After sightseeing in the Andalusian cities of Cordoba and Seville, the next stop is the seaside city of Torremolinos.

In this city there is opportunity to see the Alhambra, a building said by many to be the most beautiful in the world.

During their stay on the coast, the students can ferry to Tangiers. It is located in Morocco, on the north coast of Africa.

Finally on July 2, the students will find themselves again boarding the 747 and return home with a better understanding of Spanish language and culture.

Top spellers

When it comes to words and spelling them, Maria Novoa and Shannon Moore are among the best in their peer group. Maria finished runner-up while Shannon was declared the champion at the recent Tyler Elementary Spelling Bee contest. Both are sixth graders. Shannon will go on to compete for district honors in the areas championship.

Honor Society hosts 'Fun Night'

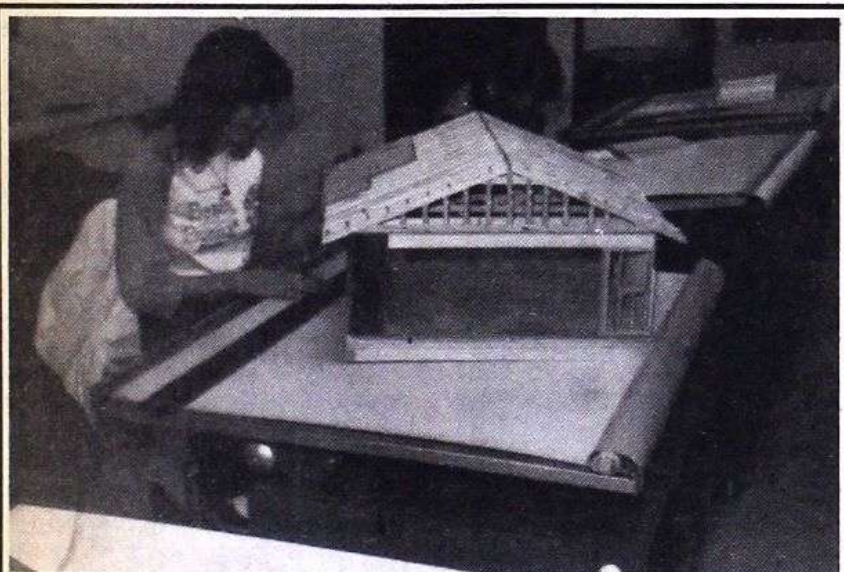

The Belleville South Junior High School chapter of the Michael Mlna National Junior Honor Society hosted a Fun Night.

The Fun Night was held in the school cafeteria and gym. The group hired Belleville Lighting and Sound for a D.J.

Over 280 people showed up for the Fun Night. Pizza and pop were sold as refreshments.

The National Junior Honor Society would like to thank all the chaperons for helping with the Fun Night.

The group is planning another Fun Night for May 13.

Action, camera

Huron High School's Vocational programs will be the topic of a feature cable TV series called "Keeping America Working," according to Joyce Willis, the Downriver Vocational Placement coordinator. Huron automotive, auto body, and the machine trades programs will be highlighted in seven half-hour segments in a series to be shown on Wayne Cable Channel 3 and United Cable. The viewing will be aired sometime in May. Film crews from the local cable TV stations are already on site and shooting the film.

Belleville South teachers, parents to organize a PTSO

By KAREN GONCZY
TRACIE MENTAL

Efforts are being made by concerned Belleville parents, teachers and students to form a PTSO similar to those in elementary schools.

The organization is being lead by Mr. Kiessel and other teachers, and Mrs. Berch, an interested parent.

The PTSO is setting up a lounge for Belleville South students. It will be on a Thursday for three weeks from 3:15 to 3:30 p.m. There will be pop, pizza, and music. The purpose of the PTSO is to have after school activities for the students.

PTSO is also having student representatives from each home room similar to our student council in the past.

This purpose is to get information from students as well as to feed them information on what it taking place.

A ballot will be used to select the homeroom representatives. Three teachers must sign a candidate's ballot as well as Mr. Forsyth's signature for citizenship. One representative and one alternate will be elected from each homeroom. Representatives will meet one day a week during lunch hour plus activity time.

'Chili's ambassador'

Pictured with Spanish teacher Janet Verde is Arturo Cartes, who is learning all he can about the United States thanks to a foreign exchange program. Arturo is from Chile.

By AMANDA ROBINSON

Arturo Cartes, a tall dark-haired student from Chile is currently finishing his senior year at Belleville High School.

Arturo has been living in America since August of 1982. America has opened up many opportunities for Arturo, who came here through his relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Cartes and their family who live in Belleville.

While here, Arturo's main objective is to learn English.

When asked what he likes best about Belleville, Arturo noted that this area is nice and green. Arturo enjoys living in Michigan.

Want to improve your auto skills?

More than 5,000 auto mechanics and mechanic trainees from Wayne and Monroe counties will have the opportunity to upgrade their repair skills in a four-wheel alignment factory clinic to be held at Wayne State University, April 12. The clinic will be jointly sponsored by Hunter Engineering Training School in cooperation with the Bureau of Automotive Regulation of the Michigan Department of State. In announcing the clinic, Secretary of State Richard H. Austin said, it is part of a "unified statewide effort" by the automotive industry including auto manufacturers, dealers, service tations, repair and parts manufacturers, educational institutions and the Bureau of Automotive Regulation to help mechanics upgrade their skills in the newest automotive repair technology. Austin said all mechanics and trainees in the wo-county area are invited to attend. For added nformation, call (313) 365-4810.

Soccer players should register

Romulus children who wish to play in summer soccer leagues are urged to register, according to recreation officials. "Neither the spring or summer leagues we sponsor will conflict with Little League baseball," said David Davidson, recreation director. "The schedules do not conflict." Registration for soccer or softball is $10 per port. Those who need further information or wish to register should contact the recreation department at 941-0666, extension 254.

Video tape service may save you cash

If your home should be burglarized, could you prove the value or values of each of the items that have been stolen?

If your home caught fire, can you prove the value of the damaged or destroyed items?

Many persons are caught in a quandry — how to prove what an item is worth when tragedy strikes. Insurance companies and agents, although conciliatory, have to consider "the bottom line".

And the burden of proof lies upon the owner.

To help people remember and prove what was taken, stolen or destroyed, a Romulus woman has set up a unique business. It's called: "Ident-A-Film".

"What we do it put on video tape the interior of the house and those belongings that the homeowners believe are valuable to keep for a permanent record," said Mrs. Janice Kehn. "This really isn't a unique idea, but it is something people should consider."

"After all, without receipts or positive proof on the value of a item, some insurance companies,

Ident-A-Film advocates

"Ident-A-Film", the brainchild of Mrs. Janice Kehn of Romulus, is gaining in popularity because of the increase in the number of break-in incidents and fires. Above, Mrs. Kehn video tapes an object held by husband, Don. The purpose behind filming is that the video tape may prove valuable in settling claims against insurance companies.

are reluctant to settle," she added.

What about the insurance companies — how do they view this video taping?

"We've received some positive feedback from their representatives," Mrs. Kehn said, "after all, they will have something tangible to view and consider."

Mrs. Kehn pointed out that she has been video taping homes for the past year and has advertised in local and area newspapers. "The response is great because there is a greater number of incidents where owners have lost items to thieves and fire."

The cost?

"Well, first of all we're bonded," Mrs. Kehn noted, "so that provides for protection. Also, we charge only $35 for an average home."

If you heed further information, contact Mrs. Kehn at 941-4520.

Belleville Post Office plans promotion

The Belleville Post Office is celebrating spring with a special philatelic promotion set to run from April 18 to May 14. Postmaster Patrick J. Tobin announced today.

"The purpose of the program is to call attention to the educational benefits as well as to the over-all fun of stamp collecting," Tobin said. "It's the most popular hobby in the world."

In keeping with the theme of the celebration, "Get Carried Away With Philately," the recently issued 20-cent commemoratives that feature colorful hot air balloons are available at the main post office and all branches and stations.

Another popular item on sale, the postmaster noted, is the inexpensive and useful guide to stamp collecting, "The Postal Service Guide to U.S. Stamps."

The paperback contains background information on many postage stamps dating back to the 1800s. It also has listings, current values and colorful illustrations of most of the stamps.

Hot air balloon stamps tell an interesting history lesson

Hot air balloons are the colorful subject of a block of 20-cent commemorative stamps now available at the main post office and all branches and stations.

The stamps feature modern hot air balloons plus the Intrepid, A Civil War balloon, and the Explorer II, which made its flight in 1935.

The Intrepid is considered to have been the first aircraft used for military purposes in the United States. President Lincoln was convinced by Thaddeus S. C. Lowe, a professor, to fund a military balloon observer corps which was headed by Lowe. Shortly thereafter, the Confederacy countered with their own balloons. Thus, the Civil War became the first American war in which aircraft were used.

Lowe's balloon corps grew to include seven balloons and more than 200 soldiers. The balloons were filled with hydrogen gas generated with acid and iron in horse-drawn carts which had been built specifically for this purpose.

Some 100 years later, the Explorer was launched. A joint U.S. Army and National Geographic Society sponsored flight, the balloon took off in 1935 from a rock depression near Rapid City, South Dakota. On board with Captains Albert W. Stevens and Orvil A. Anderson were many scientific instruments and biological test equipment.

The purpose of the flight was to study stratospheric gamma rays, radio transmissions and to determine if spores could survive in the stratosphere. Reaching 72,395 feet, it set a world record for altitude. When it landed some 225 miles away, the balloon was swarmed by spectators from nearby White Lakes, South Dakota, as well as enthusiasts who had followed the balloon from the launch.

The stamps were designed by Davis Meltzer, a Pennsylvania freelance artist who is associated with the National Geographic Society.

'Y' to have spring lunch with Joanna

The YWCA of Western Wayne County is holding its 3rd annual "Spring Luncheon with Joanna." Join them for a delicious buffet luncheon and entertainment with astrologer Joanna. Come meet other women of the YWCA and see what they're all about. Learn your astrological predictions for the month of April. Joanna has been involved in the study of astrology, para psychology and metaphysics for 15 years. She can be heard on radio - WCZY.

The luncheon will take place at the YWCA of Western Wayne County, 26279 Michigan Avenue (1 mile W. of Telegraph), on Wednesday, April 13 from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

The cost is $4 for members and $6 non-members. Free is a YWCA membership of $10 is taken, only on that day. To register and for more information contact Susan Cadwell or Monika Johnson at 561-4110.

Super Saturdays, anyone?

The second six-week "Super Saturday" session will begin April 16. The time will be 9:30 to noon. The emphasis will be space science and computers.

The program is designed to gifted and talented children ages 6 to 11.

The following plan is based on a minimum enrollment of 12 (maximum of fourteen).

Participants will be divided into two groups each with its own adult advisor. One group will build and fly model rockets, the other will build a space shuttle simulation.

Two to three computers will be used to provide opportunities for both groups to simulate aircraft and orbital flight and to perform communications and mathematical tasks as needed.

An engineer who has worked with NASA and the Space Shuttle Program will serve as a consultant and will present a program for parents and children featuring photos, film, and experimental instruments from the US Space Shuttle Program.

Costs are $55 for YMCA members and $65 for others.

Walkathon for youth who needs heart transplant is set

Wayne County General Hospital is sponsoring a benefit 15-mile walkathon for patient Lasalle Rogers.

Rogers, a student of Inkster High School, suffered severe damage to his heart as the result of an infection. His heart function is so reduced that it is similar to an old man who has suffered several heart attacks.

Because of the damage to his heart, Lasalle must have a heart transplant in order to continue living.

The proceeds from the walkathon will go towards the $100,000 needed for the heart transplant.

The 15 mile walkathon will be held on Edward Hines Drive just south of Seven Mile Road. This is a pledge walk where it is hoped that participants will get pledges of money from friends and relatives for the number of miles they walk. The walkathon will take place at 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. on Sunday, April 10.

For further information call Information at Wayne County General Hospital at 722-2500.

Those who are not able to participate in the walkathon, but still wish to contribute to Lasalle may send a check or money order made out to: Lasalle Rogers Fund, and mail it to Wayne County General Hospital, 2345 Merriman, Westland, MI 48185. All contributions are tax deductible.

NEW BUSINESS
Doris LaBeau, Chairperson for the Salary Commission made a recommendation to the people for pay increases for the Administrative Elected Officials. The Commission consisted of five other people, Charles LeValley, Ethel Jewell, Durrell Williams, Gary Jackson and Donald Sinclair. Doris LaBeau explained they had compared the salaries of the Elected Officials with more than twenty other communities, also researched the duties of each official and reviewed their job descriptions. They then felt that in order to have dedicated and competent people run for these positions they must be paid a liveable wage.

Motion by Doris LaBeau Supported by Charles LeValley To increase the Supervisor, Clerk and Treasurer's salaries as follows:

Supervisor	$ 500.00
Clerk	$1,300.00
Treasurer	$ 300.00

Top scholars at Huron

Masson's perfect grades earn for him Valedictorian honors

PAUL JAMES MASSON

Belleville High posts Honor Roll

Thirty-one Belleville High students earned "straight A" grades during the fourth marking period, according to high school officials.

Among those who received "all A's" in the 12th grade are: Bradley Ballard, Teresa Combs, Kenneth Eccles, Stephen Essinger, Cynthia Fitch, Bridget Florian, Lisa Gubaci, Galen Kenyon, Sandy Mattson, Phyllissa Maynor, Shannon Quinlan, Tracy Rowlett, Tami Vichy, and Kathleen Zager.

The top ten scholars at New Boston's Huron High School have a wide spectrum of interests, but they have one thing in common and that is their desire to excel academically.

Jon W. Stevens, principal at the high school, this week unveiled the top students and they are:

The Valedictorian: Paul Masson earned the highest scholastic record possible (4.00) indicating four years of perfect academic attainment. The Salutatorian, Timothy Johnson garnered a lofty 3.97 grade point average during his outstanding academic career at Huron High School.

The remaining scholars included: Geraldine Haener (3.91), Stephen Speer (3.89), Gregory Joslin (3.85), Tracy Neifert and Stacey Dionne both with (3.80), Christopher Bonner (3.77), Bruce Canejo (3.76), and Cheryl Simpson 3.72.

Paul Masson, son of Mrs. Marilyn K. Masson of 31831 Pennsylvania Road, intends to pursue a career in Atomic or Solid State Physics at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor and become a research scientist. He has been selected as a Slater Merit Scholar (U of M) and is a National Merit Scholar finalist. The young scholar has been active in the National Honor Society as well as the Huron High School music program. His involvement in music include state music performance awards and the scholarship award at Interlochen. He also has been very active in church activities and some day desires to enter the Bible ministry full time, as a member of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Miss Haener resides at 34970 Huron with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Haener. In addition to being a scholar of note, Geraldine has held the office of vice-president during a four year involvement in the Student Council. She also was in the National Honor Society and was a semi-finalist National Merit Scholar. She has been active in the youth group and choir at St. Stephens Catholic Church. Geraldine was also a member of the Girl Scouts of America. Her athletic participation has been in track and basketball, having been selected All-Area honorable mention in the latter. Geraldine is enrolled at Eastern Michigan University at Ypsilanti and intends to pursue child psychology as a career profession.

Stephen D. Speer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Speer of 22727 Merriman Road, is the fourth ranked scholar. His leadership abilities were instrumental in his election as both the Junior Class and Senior Class presidencies of the Class of 1983. He also is a two-year member of the National Honor Society. He was selected as a delegate to Boys State as well as to the World Youth congress in Mexico this June. He is actively involved in the yearbook as senior photographer. Steve is also active in the Nazarene Church in the youth group, choir and attended National Christian Youth Congress in Colorado last year. Steve is to attend Olivet Nazarene College and pursue Electronics Engineering.

Christopher J. Bonner, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bonner, resides with his parents at 27556 Bordeaux Drive. He has been active in the National Honor Society and varsity athletics during his formal education at Huron High School. He lettered in both wrestling and track. His outside interests included Karate, ice hockey and 4-H Club work. Deury Institute of Technology will be Chris' choice of professional education as he pursues a career in

Gregory S. Joslin resides at 27140 Waltz Road with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Joslin. He has been a two year member of both the National Honor Society and the French Club. He is presently the electd president of the French Club. Greg's interests included cross country, skiing, basketball, and bowling. He also was involved in the Huron Athletic Association Baseball program as both an athlete and as an umpire. Greg's future plans include a mechanical engineering program at Michigan Technological University at Houghton. His final goal aspiration includes possible involvement in the National Aeronautic Space Agency (NASA) program at Houston.

Tracy Renee Neifert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Neifert Jr. of 25699 Odette, plans to attend Ferris State College and train for the profession of legal secretary enroute to becoming a lawyer. Tracy is a two year member of the National Honor Society and was the schools representative at Girl's State as a Junior. She was chosen as the Good Citizenship recipient of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Other interests include yearbook, Student Council, band, and Secretary of her class on three occasions. She also is a musician of some note.

Green Thumbs assist library

When we refer to Hazel Mailloux and Rose Drouillard as "Green Thumb" employees, you will immediately picture two women involved with gardening or houseplants but such is not the case. The twosome are "Girls Friday" at the Fred C. Fischer Library in Belleville. Green Thumb operates under a grant agreement with the Employment and Training Administration of the U.S. Department of Labor with Federal funds appropriated under the Older Americans Act. The Act was established "in order to foster and promote useful, temporary, parttime service activities for unemployed low-income persons who are 55 years old or older." The twosome, who have been with the library for a year, were hired to help with the inventory and to do general clerical and desk duties.

Junior Study Club to send five to state federation convention

The 88th Annual GFWC-Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs' Convention will be held April 26-28 at the Park Place Hotel in Traverse City, according to Marjorie Goodridge, MSFWC president. The Michigan State Federation is the largest non-partisan, non-denominational organization of volunteer women in the state with over 1,000 members in 220 clubs.

Local women planning to attend the 3-day event are Nancy Sawyer, Belleville Junior Study Club president; Cathy Horste, Michigan Junior Federation secretary and State Federation Crime Prevention Chairman; Connie Etter, club membership chairman; Maxine Lane, Michigan State Federation treasurer, and Study Club member Kitty Davies.

John M. Pager Jr. of Milwaukee, Wis. will speak on "Choices: your stake in Michigan's Future." The keynote speaker will be Mrs. Phyllis Roberts of Fairfax, Va., GFWC first vice-president, whose talk will center on club volunteer activities and their importance on the national level.

Several special activities are planned for convention delegates and their guests. A charter fishing expedition has been arranged for husbands who accompany their wives and also a tour of the Gwen Frostic Studio and an evening vesper and memorial service.

The opening day luncheon will feature Mr. and Mrs. Roger Jacobi and guest artists from the Interlochen School. High intensity training workshops on special MSFWC projects will take up the afternoon. Wednesday will highlight the Michigan Junior Federation with a special "convention within the convention."

Luncheon will include a celebrity auction to benefit Girlstown, a home for emotionally troubled girls located in Belleville and owned and operated by the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Cathy Horste of the Belleville Junior Study Club will be a featured speaker at the convention, presenting workshops on both membership retention programs and crime prevention.

businesses replacing the standard street, utility squares.

Donation of $1.25 per person will include dessert, beverage and door prizes. The club's now famous "hope chest" will also be raffled and this year's collection is full of craft items donated by members. Proceeds from the party will help fund the Genevieve Clark Memorial Scholarship which is a cash award given annually to a single, female parent who is interested in furthering her education.

Further information may be obtained from Nancy Sawyer, club present, at 697-0764.

Junior Study Club party set for April 20

A Card and Game Party, an annual event sponsored by the GFWC Belleville Junior Study Club, will be held from 7:30 to 10 p.m. April 20 at the Van Buren Township Hall, 46425 Tyler Road.

The traditional fun night is open to the public and both men and women are invited to attend. Club members will supply playing cards including Pit and Uno and also a number of board games with "Van Buren Township Opportunity" featured. The game, designed and marketed by Junior Study Club members, is based on "Monopoly" with local landmarks and

Adelines to compete

Sweet Adelines from the Huron Valley Chapter will be taking their favorite road on April 7 — the one that leads to the Hyatt-Regency Hotel in Flint — for their regional barbershop harmony competition with other chapters. They'll be cheering their favorite quartets, which perform on Friday. On Saturday, they reach the year's climax amidst the color, glamour and excitement of the chorus contest. The winning chapter goes on next year to the international competition.

Any lady who can carry a tune can learn the good singing techniques that will enhance her musical ability and add to the quality of the barbershop chorus. Then she may choose to sing in a quartet at chorus performances, or just sing informally in an extemporaneous quartet when the chapter rehearses or meets for parties.

Interested women are welcome any Wednesday night at 7:30. Rehearsals will continue at Monaguagon School, 4000 Marion, Trenton, on April 13, after the school's spring vacation.

Call Judi Affleck, 675-6206, to chat about it or for information about the location of the April 6 rehearsal.

Homemade bread is definitely better!

Freshly-baked bread has an appeal all its own. Its fragrant aroma and delicious goodness can surround your entire being and make you feel warm inside and out.

Homemade bread is "better" for you in more ways than you may think. It costs less, tastes better and is more nutritious than commercially packaged brands.

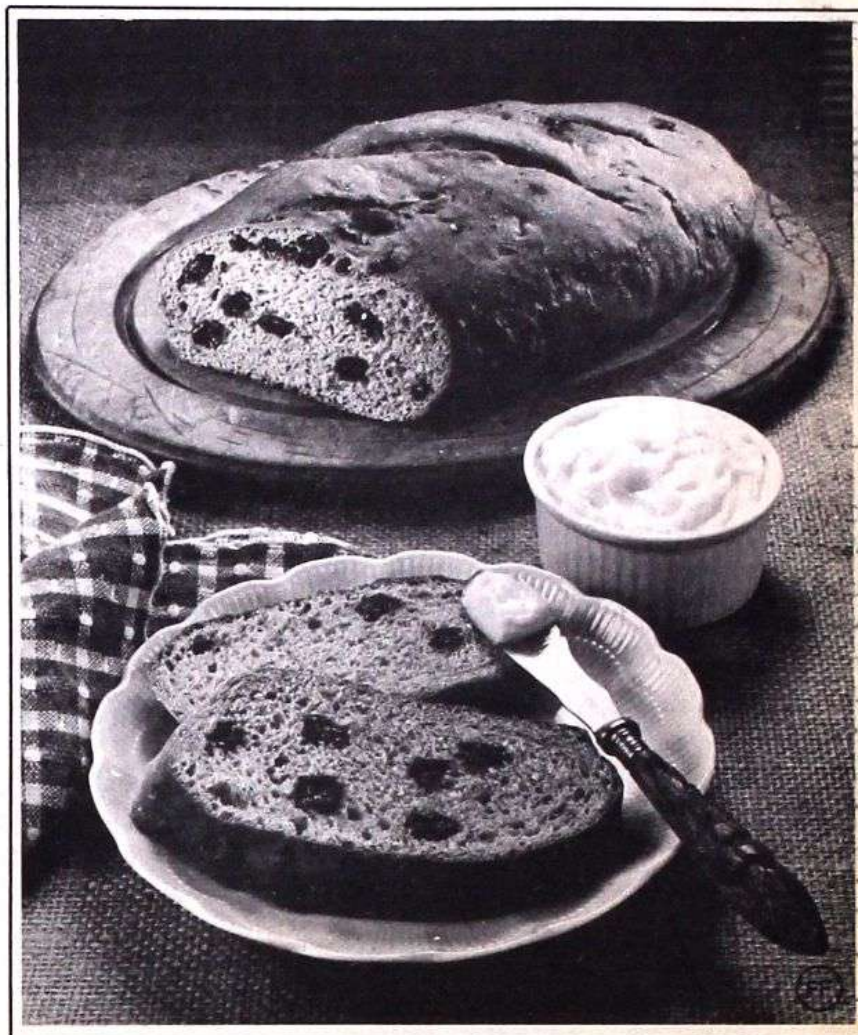

Enjoy the best of both worlds; good nutrition and what the "experts" called "melt in your mouth" quality. Carrot Raisin Loaves, developed by the Fleischmann's Yeast Test Kitchen, is one excellent example. You'll love its delicate blend of spices, raisins and carrots. Try it and create a truly unique and nutritious treat for the entire family.

Carrot Raisin Loaves

Makes 2 loaves

2- $\frac{3}{4}$ to 3- $\frac{1}{2}$ cups unsifted white flour
1- $\frac{1}{2}$ cups unsifted whole wheat flour
2 tablespoons packed light brown sugar
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1 teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon ground cinnamon
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon ground nutmeg
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon ground allspice
2 packages Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast
1 cup water
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup milk
2 tablespoons Fleischmann's Margarine
1 egg (at room temperature)
 $\frac{3}{4}$ cup grated carrots
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup dark seedless raisins

Combine 1- $\frac{1}{2}$ cups white flour and whole wheat flour. In a large bowl mix 1- $\frac{3}{4}$ cups flour mixture, sugar, orange rind, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg, allspice and undissolved Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast. Combine water, milk and Fleischmann's Margarine in a saucepan. Heat over low heat until liquids are very warm (120°F.-130°F.). Margarine does not need to melt. Gradually add to dry ingredients and beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add egg and $\frac{1}{2}$ cup flour mixture. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in carrot, raisins, remaining flour mixture and enough additional flour to make a soft dough. On a lightly floured board knead until smooth, about 4 to 5 minutes.

Divide dough in half. Roll each half into a 14x8-inch rectangle. Roll up from long edges into a loaf. Pinch seams and ends to seal. Place on a greased baking sheet. Make 3 diagonal slashes on top of each loaf. Cover; let rise 30 minutes, until doubled in bulk.

Bake at 375°F. for 20 to 25 minutes, or until done. Remove from sheet and place on wire racks to cool.

Steven Robert Grzesiak

The birth of a 6 lb., 13 oz. baby boy on March 10 is being announced by Robert and Kathleen Grzesiak of 9476 Washington, Romulus.

The new heir put in his appearance at 7:54 a.m. at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne and was titled "Steven Robert." The infant, who measured 20 inches in length, is the brother of 9-year-old Heather Marie Palmer, 7-year-old Sara Ann Palmer and Heather Grzesiak, who's eight.

Stella Solomon of Westland and John Grzesiak and Margaret Grzesiak, both of Detroit, are Steven's grandparents. His great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William Oman and Alvina Muradas, all of Detroit.

Kennth Allen Sims II

Kenneth and Cheryl Sims of 10057 Miriam, Romulus, welcomed a fourth member to their family on March 20 when their son, Kenneth Allen Sims II, bowed in at Riverside Hospital in Trenton.

Arriving at 5:57 a.m. the baby weighed in at 8 lbs., 8 ozs. and measured 20 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches.

He is the new baby brother of Susan Marie Sims who's 14 $\frac{1}{2}$ -months-old and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Sims of Romulus; Lucille Johnston of Ypsilanti and Donald Johnston of Lincoln Park.

Great-grandparent honors go to Ella Merryman of Romulus and Mr. and Mrs. Mose Weber of Johannesburg.

Kenneth's mother is the former Cheryl Jonston.

They will be married at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in New Boston.

Short subjects

Cheese is a concentrated type of milk in that it takes 10 pounds or five quarts of milk to make one pound of Cheddar cheese. One and one-half ounces Cheddar cheese contain about the same amount of calcium as one cup, or eight ounces, of whole, skim, lowfat or buttermilk.

Thin-bladed knives or string drawn through semi-firm cheeses such as Blue do a better cutting job than many other tools. Chunks or crumbs of Blue cheese seem to taste better than slices.

If you want to celebrate June Dairy Month with a sundae, here's a favorite combination: Mix one-half cup EACH peanut butter and honey and spoon it over a scoop or two of vanilla-chocolate ripple ice cream. Top with whipped cream and a few whole peanuts.

A favorite dressing for salads is one called Green Goddess. Make it by using one and one-half cups dairy sour cream or plain yogurt. Mix in one-fourth cup EACH tarragon vinegar and chopped parsley, one tablespoon EACH anchovy paste, fresh lemon juice and finely chopped green onion or chives, and a clove of garlic, minced. It's great on assorted greens! (Yield: 2 cups).

Tomatoes make a wonderful hot vegetable, if you treat them to a topping of one cup (4 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese mixed with two tablespoons butter, three tablespoons sesame seed and one-fourth cup soft bread crumbs. For six servings, spread on three large tomatoes which have been cut in half and seasoned with salt and pepper. Broil two to three minutes.

Add some zippy seasoning to hamburgers, grilled steak or London Broil with this sauce: Blend two to three tablespoons prepared horseradish, two tablespoons EACH chopped parsley and chopped pimiento with one cup dairy sour cream. (Yield: 1½ cups).

our opinions

Westland's problems don't want to go away

It is a safe assumption to say that the City of Westland has serious problems... a safe assumption, but possibly an understatement. Mired in political turmoil, the "City of Pride, Progress and Promise" is being stripped of its pride, has regressed rather than progressed, and has heard many a promise, most of them empty.

City fathers have their own explanations for the city's plight. They are quick to point their fingers at the opposition and alleged a lack of this or a lack of that on the part of person their finger is aimed at. Whether the problem is the result of a lack of communications or a lack of political savvy is beside the point. The city is in deep trouble, and only a combined effort will solve its problem.

The city's financial problem, in light of the condition of the state, is to be expected. What is unexpected is the impotency of its leaders to come to gripes with it, their inability to address reality without a heavy dose of political rhetoric. The city doesn't need charges and counter-charges of political harassment and lack of communication. It needs leaders who are hell bent on getting the city back on its feet again, with a minimum amount of discomfort to all concerned.

The rhetoric that has been exchanged between the mayor and the council has become a well-worn record, and the constant bickering has given Westland government nothing short of an soap operish atmosphere to those on the inside looking in. The old adage talks about not washing dirty laundry in public, but in Westland it appears to be the orders of the day... and the dirtier the better.

What is wrong with Westland? Why is it in the shape it's in? Why have the city fathers failed to meet the problem head-on?

It could be political immaturity. It could be a case of election campaigning a few months too earlier. It could be a case of too much ego. Whatever the reasons, it is time that the haggling stop, and the council and mayor work together for a common goal.

That is not to say that neither side in this arena have not tried to address the issue. They have in their own way, but much of what has been done shrouded in name calling and has, at times, appeared antagonistic and reactionary — not to the problem, but to the loyal opposition. Difference of opinions are a part of American democracy. If we all agreed, it would be a boring existence. However, in the case of Westland's fiscal crisis, it is time to set those differences aside and start agreeing.

We fear that Westland officials are losing sight of the issue at hand, that they are allowing political differences, past injuries and sheer stubbornness impede any progress that could be made. We believe that they take pride in their city, that they want progress and that they are committed to the promise of a better tomorrow. However, we fear, all that may be just another tomorrow, if they don't all start working together.

If our founding fathers had not been able to rise above their differences, this country might still be a part of the British Empire. They did, and we are sure the council and mayor can. We only wonder when?

Growing up -- it hurts

They say children will be children, and, in many ways we will have to agree. When we attempt to treat them like grown ups, they retaliate; when we treat them as kids they say they are not.

It seems we can never win.

And those of us who have been fortunate to survive those hectic years realize now how hectic they were. Most of us were fortunate that we did have parents to guide us over the rough spots, even if it did take a swat or two on the behind.

Of course, child psychologists tell us we can't use the rod anymore because if we do, it only goes to prove that the child was spoiled.

Beatings, of course, can lead to severe consequences. Like being accused of child abuse. However, all one has to do is to talk to police officers and police chiefs and you'll learn most of the vandalism, most of the break-ins and a lot of the armed robberies today are being committed by teens who, ironically, don't come from poverty-stricken families.

It may be useful to note that the terrible price we pay when schools have to cut back on those so-called extracurricular activities such as sports, arts, music usually gives youth the extra time to get into trouble.

A 'double whammy'

And now that Governor James Blanchard and the State Legislature got their income tax increase, they're about to hit the good people of the state of Michigan with a "double whammy."

Would you believe that our elected officials in Lansing are considering a hike in the state's sales tax?

May we urge all of our readers to contact their elected officials and inform them that, if they support the unfair tax — which will be a burden on the unemployed as well as the employed — that they will not be in office the next time around?

Withholding should be repealed

The Senate will soon vote on whether to repeal the 10% withholding on interest and dividend income — the new tax law that has been the subject of a great deal of criticism and debate. I thought I would share my views on this controversy.

The important issues surrounding the law requiring banks and savings institutions to withhold ten percent of interest and dividend income have become obscured. At the heart of the withholding question is whether the American people will gain or lose as a result of this legislation. I believe they will lose.

Savings and investment, structured to draw funds into markets that will help increase capital formation, are essential for economic growth. Our ability to encourage personal savings will be an important element in revitalizing the depressed sectors of the domestic economy and getting our people back to work. Withholding interest and dividend income will discourage savings, inhibiting our economic recovery.

There are many other problems associated with the 10% withholding. Although senior citizens and low income individuals are exempt from this withholding, they will have to file for exemption with each institution that pays them interest or dividends. Some will inevitably fail to file for exemption, others will be the victims of clerical or other errors. Thus, people who rely most heavily on interest or dividend income are most likely to be hurt by the legislation. At the same time, the paperwork burden on financial institutions and the IRS to institute the withholding will be costly and partially offset the intended gains.

The withholding was passed as part of the Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982 (TEFRA). The withholding is imposed on all individuals, except those persons 65 or older whose tax liability is not more than $1,500 for the preceding tax year and any individual whose tax liability is not more than $600 for the preceding tax year. This provision was one of the many reasons I voted against TEFRA. The IRS already receives adequate information to enforce existing tax laws. Eighty-nine percent of the American people are already in compliance. They should not be penalized for obeying the law.

We need to address the problems of declining savings. I have supported several measures introduced in the Senate that benefit the small saver, including a recent amendment to the Internal Revenue Code to increase the interest and dividend exclusion from $200 (single persons) /$400 (couples) to $1000 /$2000. I will continue to work for more incentives to save.

Recently, several members of Congress nearly derailed major social security and emergency jobs legislation by adding on amendments to repeal the 10% withholding. These efforts were counterproductive and did little to help repeal the withholding. The Senate is now scheduled to vote on this issue on April 15. I intend to vote to repeal this issue on April 15. I intend to vote to repeal this short-sighted and unnecessary tax collection scheme.

Time capsule

Tom Mooradian
Managing Editor

To the reader who happens to find himself with nothing to do some 20 years hence and snubs the outdoors for a bit of entertaining reading, let this "time capsule" inform you that all is not well in these parts.

The economy has not rebounded as many predicted; unemployment remains near the 15 percent mark across the state; the governor and the state legislature have again robbed their people, forcing them to hand over more of their hard-earned monies in the form of taxes.

The world remains at odds - East has its missiles poised at these shores; and we have our nuclear warheads ready to explode on enemy territory.

And, if there is an earth 20 years hence, we hope you've solved some of the problems that plagued us.

In the meantime, dear reader, we're gearing up for one heck of a political battle in Romulus.

Although it was microscopically clear that the inevitable would happen in Romulus, last week's announcement by Treasurer Beverly McAnally to challenge Mayor William Oakley for the top elected job in Romulus caught no one by surprise.

Mrs. McAnally is an articulate spokesperson who has had her eyes on the mayor's office for some time and she believes the time is ripe for the challenge.

But, and she is the first to admit, that she would never underestimate her opponent; it's too early now to predict which of these two worthy candidates will eventually turn out the victor.

It should be a wild and fascinating race.

And we can't see a third person jumping into the ring and sparring with these two political heavyweights.

Only time will tell.

And time apparently doesn't heal the wounds in Canton Township's verbal war between treasurer Maria Sterlini and township supervisor Jim Poole.

The duel in the township keeps the newspaper pages alive and interesting and township life smothered in controversy, and we can't help to think that intelligent people are supposed to act intelligent.

The latest dispute is over a deputy treasurer which Ms. Sterlini argues that she and her department should have jurisdiction over. She says that "the law says I am to appoint a deputy," but members of the board say that it's the board that pays the employee.

So if Ms. Sterlini wants to hire, the deputy may not be paid.

Presently, the deputy treasurer's slot is filled by Ms. Sterlini's mother, who is, indeed, a qualified and intelligent person. But when it gets into print, it just doesn't look good. Let me add that Maria's mother doesn't get paid for the job she's doing.

If you're confused, that's all right. Seems par for the course these days... in Canton.

Dear capsule reader, if you have taken time to read this far let me add on a more serious note that if the present trends continue, schools will become obsolete.

Every time a reporter talks to a school superintendent the story ends with pessimism. Van Buren has voted to close one school and will shut yet another at the end of the 1984-85 school year; Romulus has already nailed tight the doors to one school, while Wayne-Westland says three of its schools are on the chopping block.

Education, in this land of opportunity, is in danger and it is an outrage to watch as the institutions are slowly but surely closed shut.

If there is a storm hovering over this nation it is that which carries a sharp message that the school system must be saved or our society will not survive as we know it.

Ah, life... it's still sweet.

About the state income tax hike

EDITOR — Does anyone really believe that the new state income tax imposed upon the good people of the State of Michigan by the governor and the State Legislature really is going to solve any of our problems?

Do they really believe that this new income tax hike will be reduced as unemployment declines?

Who are they, the legislators, trying to fool?

With the formula given we will never see the tax back to the previous level in this century.

Why is it that Lansing wasn't swamped with protests such as being sent to Washington about the dividend and interest tax?

Don't people realize that this new rate of income tax for the average family will cost them two or three hundred dollars, while the dividend and interest tax will cost the average family a few cents a year?

Why wasn't the sales tax put back on food and drugs where the careful shopper could easily avoid it?

Budget cuts hurt program

EDITOR — The Romulus Parents Area Council, in its effort to compensate for budget cuts effecting its school district has been indirectly hit by recent cuts from Lansing.

Executive orders from the State, and budget cuts have created numerous cuts to school funding. This is due to the turmoil that our state's finances are in right now. The most obvious results of these cuts in Romulus have been the complete elimination of art, music, and physical education instruction at the elementary level in the Romulus Community School District.

Additionally, in the past 2½ years, a third of the buildings have been closed, approximately 30% of the work force has been laid off, and employees' wages have been either frozen or rolled back. "These are the time that try men's souls," and never has this been truer in Romulus.

The Romulus Parents Area Council is endeavoring to return a portion of this loss to the school district. Their initial project is the presentation, this spring, of the Piccolo Opera Company's presentation of a children's operetta. This is to be presented in conjunction with a complete study unit.

While the importance of a fine arts project is self evident, the purpose of this project is simply to present to the child an aspect of the Fine Arts to which they would not ordinarily be exposed. Because this performance has been created with the young student in mind, the results can prove especially enlightening.

While this is being done with the full support and cooperation of the Romulus School District, all funding is coming entirely from the Romulus Parents Area Council, and now the same problems that hit the schools, namely budget cuts, and executive orders have hit this project as well.

The parent group has been hoping for a grant from the Michigan Council for the Arts to help finance the endeavor, but recently found out that all grants had been cut due to funding cuts made to the M.C.A. by Lansing.

As a result, it appears likely that the project will not be able to be presented to all elementary level students, district wide, but rather the scope will have to be narrowed.

It grieves me to have to consider choosing who can go and who can't. Especially when I see that the problem that has befallen us is the very same one we set out to compensate.

The council is desperately trying to make up for those funds lost with the grant but to date are still approximately $1500 short.

We fully realize how hard times are but a little bit from all of us now, will have far reaching effects on our children's education. Today's recession must not be allowed to interfere with the education of children. Their only opportunity to prepare themselves for future responsibilities is now.

Wayne Band-aids were helpful

EDITOR — On March 4th, we had the pleasure of being the "Official Band-Aids" for the Wayne High Pep Band at the "Coming Home" basketball game.

As members of the Wayne Band and Orchestra Booster Club, we had volunteered to be in attendance with the Pep Band for the evening. Since we hesitated to be called chaperones or leaders, the kids came up with the name "Band-Aids" — and that's a perfect title. We helped carry jackets—purses—music—an occasional instrument case.

These kids were great! In keeping with "Coming Home Week," some of the band members wore costumes, and that was great fun. Costumes or not—their behavior was beyond reproach, and the music was terrific. We were very proud to be with them. We were treated "with" courtesy and respect, and treated "to" a large dose of fun and enthusiasm.

After the game, several people from the opposing team told us how nice it was to have the Pep Band at the game and how much they enjoyed the music.

Wayne Memorial's Band Director, Richard Grzesik, is doing a super job with these students and we salute him as well.

WAYNE PRIDE — Those are not just words — It's a great feeling! If anyone has lost that feeling — or is looking for it — Get involved with our young people! It doesn't have to be with the Band and Orchestra, try basketball, football, track, swimming, ski-club, Spanish club, math club — The opportunities are too numerous to mention.

'Hot Meals' helped needy

EDITOR — The City of Inkster set up a Hot Meal Assistance Program at St. Clement's Episcopal Church as a means of helping the needy in these difficult economic times.

The program was funded by local businesses and individuals of the city. The program began on January 19, 1983, with meals being served five days a week, Monday through Friday.

For the past 12 weeks, St. Clement's has served, 300 persons per day, 1,500 per week and 20,000 for the 12 weeks.

This Hot Meal Assistance Program was terminated on March 31.

St. Clement's Episcopal Church would like to express its appreciation to the City of Inks-ter, business and individuals who made it possible to lend a helping hand to those who needed help.

A SPECIAL thanks to all that volunteered their time and who gave so freely of their services as workers, and made this program the great success it was, are as follows: Leroy Jenkins, Raymond Holland, Essie Williams, Samuel James, Dorothy Moore, Margaret Goolsby, Luch Mitchell, Adrain Mitchell, Son Hargrave, John Watkins, Ruby Hendricks, Lucille McHenry, Sarah Young, Bonita Merritt, Kathryn Admas, Edward Foster, Mavin Merritt and Willa Brown

When bills arrive late

EDITOR — I would like to say I think the ambulance service better get on the ball. Why, oh why, when they get all the information about your ambulance service, what insurance, and so forth, why they don't send in the necessary papers to the Medicare or Blue Cross? We must wait two years, then try to make the poor senior citizen pay it.

Not only that, they put you in the collection service without sending you a bill first.

Column about Webster 'great'

EDITOR — Just wanted to say that I enjoyed Managing Editor Tom Mooradian's column "The Death of a Newspaper Woman." I knew Mrs. Marge Webster on a personal and professional basis and respected her for the tremendous job she had done.

She indeed personified the true newspaper person, always digging, searching for news.

Mr. Mooradian's column was a fantastic job of writing and his descriptions of her were perfect.

Thank you for bringing back some memories. I know Marge would have loved it.

Van Buren needs fireworks law

EDITOR — I have been told that Van Buren has no policy or ordinances concerning the sale of fireworks.

I believe they should have one.

As this is a legitimate business, and as I am interested in selling fireworks, I would like to receive written rules and regulations that will apply to everyone in this business.

I have sold fireworks for five years in Romulus with no problems, and am familiar with the problems associated with trying to control the sale of these items.

Mysteries of ESP

HEMET, CALIFORNIA...The rains were still pouring from the skies, and Mt. San Jacinto was keeping its face hidden behind rolling clouds, when I went out into the temperamental day and wound my way up the hill to the Ramona Bowl, where the famous annual outdoor 'Ramona' pageant is presented each year.

As I reached the top of the hill, the sun burst forth from between dark clouds and bathed the valley in glory. And it was there I met Monique Peterson, who is the supervisor of the Ramona Bowl Museum and Gift Shop, tall woman, with thick salt and pepper hair, Monique is a public speaker, with a keen interest in anthropology and history, particularly the history of this valley she passionately loves, this place that is called the 'foothills of heaven.'

But she has another interest, too. She is fascinated with the subject of ESP, and it was on that ground that we spent the next hour talking about our experiences, and because I write and lecture on the subject, her stories were particularly fascinating to me.

Most of her experiences were of the everyday variety, that is, she didn't see ghosts, she didn't have visions, she just went about her duties, and things happened to her. She knew without knowing how she knew.

There was the time when she offered to watch over a friend's dance studio when the friend wanted to visit her daughter in another part of California. The friend was emotionally upset because she had just lost her husband, and she had had to say goodbye to her son, who was accepting a job across the country. She had no idea when she would see him again.

Several days passed and one evening after Monique had left the studio, and her home phone rang, and her friend said, "Hi, I'm home!"

And Monique answered, "Did you have a good time with your son?" There was a long pause, while the telephone line hummed, and then her friend gasped, "How did you know?"

How did she? I have a pet theory. Since her friend knew she had had a surprise visit from her son, Monique picked it up telepathically. Telepathy has been proven, and it is believed that telepathic communication is not rare. But it still gives one a jolt when it happens to him... or her!

Monique was president of the PTA several years ago when it happened to her again. The PTA had voted for dental care for one of the deprived children in the school and the secretary had been instructed to send a check to the doctor who was caring for the child.

At a following meeting Monique got up before the group and riffling through her papers announced that the doctor had returned the check to them and had said he would donate the care for the child's teeth. Monique was so thrilled to have had this response, but even though she continued searching through her papers she couldn't find the letter.

"I could see it in my mind's eye," she told me. "But I couldn't find it."

Two days later the secretary of the PTA called and said something peculiar had happened.

"You know that letter you couldn't find at PTA the other evening? Well, I have just received one from the doctor saying he would donate the care for the child's teeth, and returned the check."

Of course, Monique had NOT received the letter. She had only seen it in her mind. A precognitive happening. A knowing before the event of the event.

The experience which 'blew her mind' was one which happened a few years ago and incidentally, was the last experience she has had of its magnitude.

She and her family were to spend Christmas with her sister and her family. It was her turn to have the Christmas party, and a few days before, her sister called and said they would be unable to come. Monique was saddened, but she said she would send two of her children over with her sister's gifts, so they might have them under their tree.

"But I won't have anything to send back," her sister said. "I have already mailed it."

Monique hung up and turned to her family sitting around the room, and said, "Jean is sending us a dishwasher for Christmas."

"Did you say that?" they shrieked.

"Well, no," Monique answered and wondered within her why she had said it.

"Then you're nuts," her kids said, in the way kids have of saying things.

The next day Monique got a card in the mail from a company saying they had a dishwasher for her and for her to call them and let them know when it could be delivered.

The museum had been closed when we finally finished talking and the sun was threatening to hide behind more clouds as it dropped behind the mountains. I said goodbye and wondered as I went to my car, whether I would ever see her again.

"I'll see you soon," she called out to me.

And because she said it, I believe she will!

average, 50 percent profit from each $1.00 candy bar.)

Maybe what needs to happen now (after all the brouhaha of the Brownie firing is over with — it even made the national wire services and people from all over the country offered to pay for the five boxes of cookies the Brownie and her out-of-work parents chose not to take responsibility and that the entire fundraising picture should be looked at.

Maybe, if fundraising efforts were simpler and profit margins were wider, there wouldn't be the danger of overzealous leaders looking on that sale of cookies as the be-all, end-all, to be achieved at any cost.

And maybe then little girls who aren't particularly good at selling cookies would be free to find, through scouting, what they are good at.

mona grigg

Scouting through cookies?

There are a multitude of things in this world that I want to know about, but don't.

There are a multitude of things I don't want to know about, but do.

There are even more things, I'm finding out as I follow this rocky road called "Life," that I thought I knew about, but didn't.

For example, I thought I knew a thing or two about Brownies. (Brownies being those little girls who, while waiting to be Girl Scouts, busy themselves with learning about sharing and caring and making things and doing things.)

I was a Brownie leader myself for a short time not-so-many years ago.

We did a lot of things together and had a lot of fun together, and together we even managed to confirm a few of the nicer lessons in Life.

One thing we didn't do back then was to sell cookies. Back then, there were fewer Brownies and more Girl Scouts, so the bigger girls took on the task of raising the money for Camp and

Things Like That.

So imagine my surprise when I found out last week that an eight-year-old — a Brownie, had been dismissed from her troop for non-aggressive salesmanship.

"Fired," the newspapers called it.

A Brownie had been fired.

And not for reasons of not sharing or not caring or not making things or not doing things. No, this particular Brownie was "fired" for not selling the five boxes of cookies she was stuck with when the person who had promised to buy them didn't.

I'm glad we didn't have to sell cookies when I was a leader. I would have been lousy at that sort of thing. I would have been lousy at giving the pep talk before the big sale. I would have been lousy at convincing the girls — and their parents — that selling cookies had some relevance in the whole Girl Scout scheme of things.

And I would surely have cringed in shame if even one parent had felt compelled to purchase even one unsold box when they didn't really want it.

There is no doubt that raising funds is an integral part of any organization whose aim it is to ensure that any child who wants to become a member can become one. If scouting adheres to its principles, money — or the lack of it — has no bearing on who gets in and who doesn't.

In fact, as I understand it, anyone who wants to, can join. So, if that's the case, it would stand to reason that anyone who wants to can stay. Even little girls who fail to sell their last five boxes of cookies.

Which brings me back to the cookies: The Girl Scout cookie industry, I read recently, is a multi-million-dollar industry. Somebody is making huge profits out there, and you can bet it's not the little somebodies who go knocking door-to-door or stand in supermarket entrances hawking their wares.

Each troop, for all their efforts, only gets 20 to 25 cents of their own spending money from each $1.75 box. (By comparison, area Little Leaguers keep, on the

Cinco Punta's Mexican eatery opens in Romulus

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Feature Editor

Some months ago Richard Wojcik was dining at a small restaurant in Gibraltar when he observed a culinary phenomenon.

"People were requesting seconds and even thirds," he recalled last week. "The food was delicious."

Sufficiently impressed, Wojcik hired that phenomenon, chef Reuben Guajardo, for his new Mexican restaurant in Romulus. Cinco Punta's (translation Five Points) features Guajardo's specialties every day from 11 a.m. until 10 p.m. except Sundays at 37421 Huron River Drive and Goddard, at the corner known as, what else, Five Points.

And since the doors were opened on this new venture less than two months ago, the requests have started to mount.

At lunchtime (11 a.m. to 2 p.m.) the popular choices are the $2.95 specials — tacos, burritos, enchiladas or tastadas, each served with rice and beans. These entrees, along with a salad, can be enjoyed at anytime in the all-you-can-eat special for $6.95.

Those who shy away from Mexican food due to its "hot" reputation, need not worry here. Guajardo, a native of Mexico, leaves such decisions to the diner.

"At home I cook everything hot but at the restaurant the customer is given sauces to put on the food if they want," explained Guajardo. "I use four or five spices and four or five vegetables in each dish."

Among the popular dinner entrees is the Botana Mexican Snack, a serving of corn tortilla chips with beans and Mexican sausage topped with tomato slices, avocado, onions, olives and jalapeno peppers ($4.75 and $5.95).

The Mexican sandwich offers three layers of flour tortillas with beans and rice, topped with beef or pork stew ($5.95). Even the traditional steak and poultry dishes have the Mexican touch, as evidenced by the flautas, chicken wrapped in corn tortilla, then fried and garnished with guacamole. The porterhouse steak is cooked in Spanish sauce and served with Mexican side dishes ($8.95).

Four brands of Mexican beer are available as well as an assortment of mixed drinks. A half liter of Margaritas is priced at $.95 for lunch and $.65 at dinnertime.

Food, beverage and continuous Latin music does not complete the dinner experience, however, at Cinco Punta's.

From 5 to 10 p.m. diners are given a free, computer analysis of their personality. Visitors are asked to rate their favorite colors on a special card, which is then programmed to analyze the choices. Accurate or not, it's a nice conversation piece and quite unique to the local restaurant circuit.

For information about parties, carry outs or catering, contact Wojcik or Guajardo at 941-9842.

Proceeds will aid the Cancer Foundation.

Comics to headline show

"Everything is funny as long as it is happening to somebody else," said Will Rogers in 1924.

Five Detroit comedians will try to prove that statement as they headline Comedy Night III at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Schoolcraft College's Waterman Campus Center. Also appearing will be the Schoolcraft College jazz ensemble, Cool Jazz, directed by Brad Bloom.

The comedians — Bill Thomas, Stu Cassell, Sheila Kay, Tim Allen and Leo Dufour — are members of the Detroit Comedy Society, a group of professional stand-up comedians who hail from Detroit.

Tickets, available at the Student Activities Office, are $3 in advance and $4.50 at the door. This event marks the third Comedy Night sponsored by the office and the Last Drop Coffeehouse.

Alcoholic beverages will be served and no one under 18 years of age will be admitted. Further information about the affair can be obtained by calling the college at 591-6400, ext. 380.

Schoolcraft College is located at 18600 Haggerty Road in Livonia.

Lou's Legendary Hearts

LOU REED
"Legendary Hearts"
(RCA)

Lou Reed has always been a few notches above your typical artistic schizo cult-figure, which may be why Legendary Lou has endured through time and 24 albums and remains an interesting, intriguing figure who also happens to make quite good — an often remarkable — music.

AAs on his last LP, "The Blue Mask," Reed has at the center of his musical sensibilities guitarist Robert Quine, whose understated playing gives a sense of urgency that match Reed's vocals. Quine sketches in the background and Lou takes the song to the limit of those self-imposed boundaries, and the results more often than not pack quite a wallop.

The title song is one of Reed's best, and also one of his most "normal," so to speak. It's a love song with the singer frustrated because for him (and us all), real life just doesn't live up to the high expectations we are all well-versed in.

Romeo oh Romeo
Wherefore art thou Romeo
Asks Lou, answering "In a car or at the bar" is a defeated tone, leading up to the statement:

Promises to keep
I never should have made
I can't live up to this
I'm good for just a kiss
Not legendary love...

Reed's penchant of late for including at least one alcohol-related tune per album (best done with "The Power Of Positive Drinking" a couple of LP's ago) is kept up here, with two of them included for your inspired listening pleasure. "The Last Shot" is a rather bitter ode with Lou seething "When you quit you quit/ But you always wish/ That you knew it was your last shot." The other, "Bottoming Out," is a darker piece which concludes with the singer angry, drunk and wasted, riding a motorcycle beading in on "a big, fat pothole." Whee. What a fun guy!

But actually, Lou has never been a fun guy, but instead he shows us the dark underbelly of life as he did in the 60's with "Waiting For The Man" and "Heroin," and continues to. "The Day John Kennedy Died," on the "Blue Mask" LP, summed up in three-and-a-half minutes more horrible memories of that November day then ABC Mini-series Division could ever hope to. Not pleasant, but real — real to the core.

Suffice it to say that Lou could give Bruce Springsteen's "Neb-raska" a run for the dead roses any day.

But there are the Reed utem-po numbers too, good 'ol fun dance numbers like "Pow Wow" and the really-hits-home "Don't Talk To Me About Work." Through the years, on record and in interviews, Lou Reed has shown himself to be bright, exceptionally witty, and articulate. And very schizophrenic. I find it hilarious that the next-to-last number on the album, "Home Of The Brave," goes on in this vein.

Here's to Frank, hit in some bar
In picturesque Brooklyn Heights
And here's to a friend that jumped in front of a train
At 7 o'clock one night
And another friend who thinks he lacks worth
Has disappeared from sight
Somewhere in the Home Of the Brave
And yet the closing number, "Rooftop Garden" is a beautiful little number seemingly taking place in a peaceful world. It's even downright sappy as Lou sings:

Sitting in our rooftop garden
Waiting for the sun
Isn't it lovely watching a plane go by
What a lovely couple are you and I

Even Barry Manilow couldn't get away with that, although that may be the precise reason that Reed can.

Anyway, it seems that before the LP's end, Lou Reed managed to exorcise all of his demons. And when he has more of them, we'll get another fine album like "Legendary Hearts."

Easter finery

There was plenty of Easter finery about at the Whittier Senior and Community Center in Westland recently as participants in the regular hot noon meal program of Out-Wayne County Human Services participated in a Easter Party. Honors for the best decorated eggs at the party went to George Reagan (front row, from left), second place, and John Hapiuk, first place, while the best bonnets were worn by Mary Reid (second row, front left), second place, Lorretta Regan, first place, and Nan Finlay, third place.

Lloyd film is featured

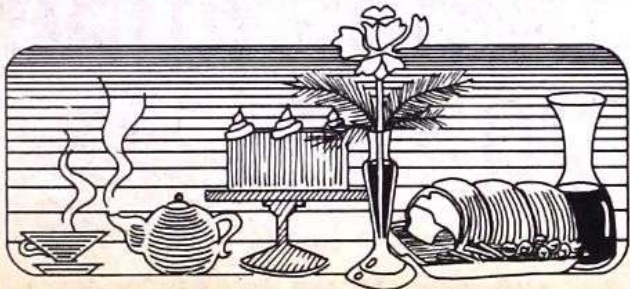

Harold Lloyd's comedy "Haunted Spooks," released in 1920, will be presented by the Motor City Theatre Organ Society at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Royal Oak Theatre, 318 W. Fourth St. in downtown Royal Oak.

Organist Eddie Weaver will handle the musical accompaniment at the Barton pipe organ. Weaver is a member of the Theatre organists Hall of Fame.

Tickets are priced at $5 and will be available at the door.

Lloyd was a silent film star best remembered for clinging to the hands of a clock high above the ground.

Realtors observe property week

Both prospective and present homeowners are invited to participate in special activities of the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors to observe Private Property Week, April 10-16.

WWOCBR will offer another of its free educational seminars, "How You Can Buy a Home," at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, April 14, in the Livonia City Hall auditorium.

Designed to provide basic information to anyone who may be considering purchase of a house or condominium in the next few years, the two-hour, non-selling session traces all the steps. Experts cover such subjects as affordability, home financing methods, loan qualification, working with Realtors, the role of attorneys and related subjects as affordability, home financing methods, loan qualification, working with Realtors, the role of attorneys and related subjects.

A kit of background materials will be furnished and answers to both written and oral questions will provide specific information. While offered without charge, reservations to avoid overcrowding are requested by calling 478-1700 or 538-4640.

To help foster increased civic pride in the various communities within its 1,600-square mile territory, WWOCBR also is staging a "Best Maintained Home" contest.

For entry, exterior photos of owner-occupied residences may be mailed to the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors, 24125 Drake Road, Farmington, 48024, or delivered to any WWOCBR member Realtor Office. Photos, which will not be returned, should be no more than a year old and no larger than five by seven inches. Entry dates are April 10 through May 14.

Entry forms listing name, address and phone number should be pasted to the back of each photo. The forms may be secured at WWOCBR member offices, clipped from publications or self-prepared.

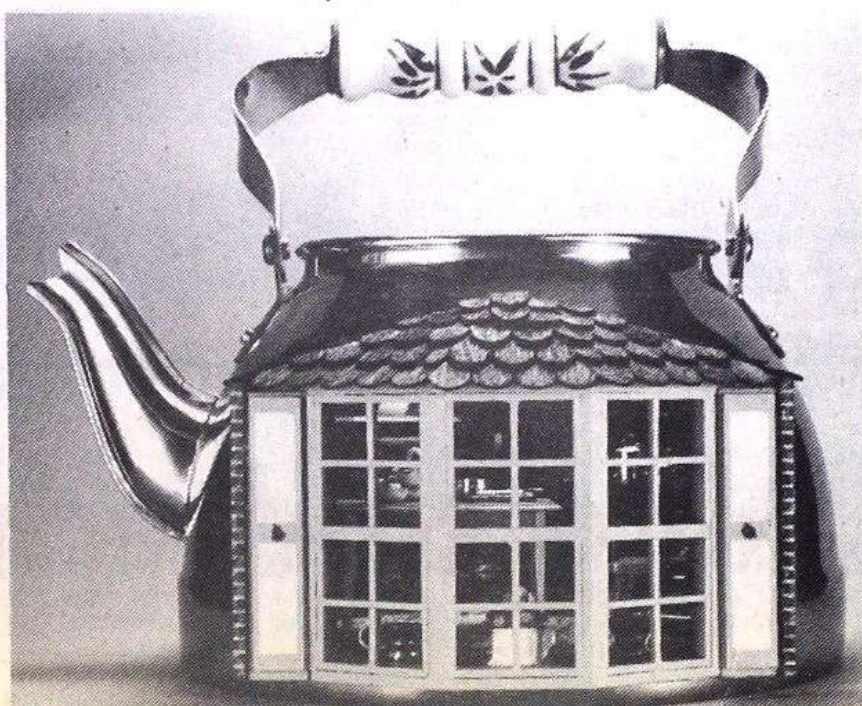

Winners will be selected in each of the following area: Detroit, west of Woodward; Northville, Plymouth and Canton; Redford and Livonia; Farmington, Farmington Hills and Novi; Garden City, Westland, Wayne, Inkster and Dearborn Heights; Southfield, Bloomfield Hills and West Bloomfield.

A panel of judges will announce selected winners on June 1. Persons seeking additional information are invited to call WWOCBR at 538-4640 or its member offices.

It's showtime

More than 60 artisans and dealers will display and sell their miniature houses, furniture and accessories Saturday from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the Troy Hilton Inn (I-75 expressway at Maple Road). All items are crafted in a scale of one inch equaling 12 inches. Show promoters note that miniature collecting is the fastest growing hobby in the world and third in popularity, trailing only stamp and coin collecting. Tickets for the show are priced at $3.

The Michigan Legislature has adopted a Senate Joint resolution, commemorating April 10-16 as Private Property Week in the State of Michigan. "Home ownership and the rights of private property are vital to the strength of our nation," said Paul Scott of Traverse City, president of the Michigan Association of Realtors. Scott further indicated this year's theme, "The Strength of a Nation Lies in the Homes of Its People" is a quotation from President Abraham Lincoln. "We feel this is a perfect opportunity for Americans to join together in recognition and celebration of their constitutionally guaranteed rights to own private property," Scott said. Representatives from the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors were presented with a copy of Senate Joint Resolution No. 116 at a meeting recently held in Lansing with the Michigan Association of Realtors. Receiving a copy of the proclamation from State Rep. Justine Barns (D-Westland) were Ron Ochala (left) and Bill Belcher (right).

Broadway director set to lead musical production

Ward Baker, a renowned Broadway director, will join the Fairmount Theatre for the Deaf to present the musical, "The Amorous Flea," on April 10 at Madonna College in Livonia. Curtain time at the college's Activities Center is 2 p.m.

The production will feature both deaf and hearing actors, who will communicate with the audience through voice and American Sign Language. "The Amorous Flea" is a musical comedy version of Moliere's "School for Wives," written in 1662, and concerns a middle-aged man who fears of finding a trustworthy woman.

Baker recently directed "I'm Getting My Act Together and Taking It on the Road," starring Connie Stevens. He will co-direct the production at Madonna College with Roderic Kates.

Tickets, priced at $3, can be purchased at the door or by calling 591-5131. Madonna College is located at Levan and the I-96 expressway.

4H holds meeting

A special Wayne County 4-H Leaders' Meeting is set for Tuesday, April 12 from 7-9 p.m. at the Cooperative Extension Service Center, 5454 Venoy Road in Wayne. All 4-H adult and older teen leaders are invited to attend. Adults interested in becoming 4-H volunteers are also welcome.

Pre-registration would be appreciated. Contact Loretta Curtis at the Detroit 4-H Resurrection Center (272-0690) or Dyle Henning at the Wayne Extension Center (721-6576) for further information.

GEORGE DAVIS

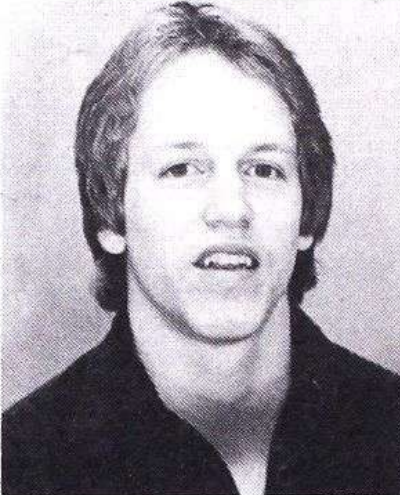

DAVID HOULE

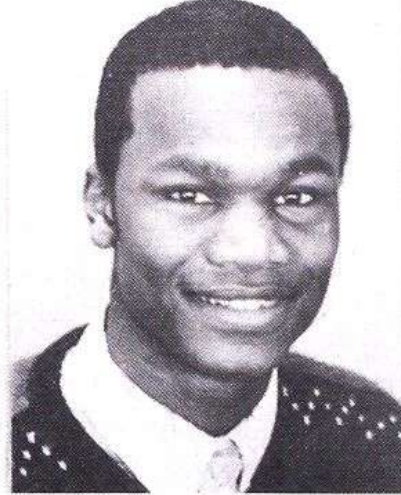

ROBERT STEBBINS

MICHAEL MELLON

ANTHONY AVANT

All-Area

Houle, Davis lead elite prep cage club

Ask any high school basketball player or their coach what their ultimate goal is each season and the answer probably would be — capture the state championship.

One area team — Inkster — nearly realized that dream by reaching the quarter-finals before succumbing to a tough Oak Park squad.

Inkster provides the nucleus of the 1983 edition of the Associated Newspapers' All-Area Basketball team. Any of these six young men who comprise this year's squad compare favorably with any team selected in previous years.

Most of the success Inkster enjoyed this season has to be attributed to 6-5, 195-pound senior center, George Davis.

Averaging 22.3 points per game, Davis led his Inkster team to a second place finish in the tough Suburban Athletic Conference and a 19-6 record. Coach George Thompson, Jr. has nothing but praise for his pivotman saying Davis is "an unselfish and all-around player."

Davis also was a stalwart on defense, averaging 14.2 rebounds per game and becoming "responsible for our fast break outlet pass."

The Viking center was also a very durable player, having played on varsity for four years and only missing five games in that span.

Davis' teammate, Anthony Avant, joins him on the All-Area first team.

Avant (6-2, 165, Sr.) helped make

Davis more effective because of his outside shooting. Avant, who averaged 18.6 points per game on the season, was deadly from 25 feet on in. According to Thompson, Avant "helped against the zone and is a pure shooter." Avant played most of the season as a forward but was used frequently at a guard spot, especially against a zone.

Joining Davis and Avant on the first team are four other young men who would make any coach smile and make any basketball program a winner.

David Houle (6-4, 210, Sr.) of Plymouth Salem flanks Davis on one side of the first-team frontcourt. Houle is no stranger to All-Area teams having been selected to the All-Area football squad as a tight end.

Houle played the game of basketball just as he did football, as a "fierce competitor," according to his coach, Fred Thomann.

Changing his blue and white of Salem for the green and white of Michigan State in the fall, Houle will leave behind many memories of success on the basketball court such as his 12.5 per game scoring average as he led the Rocks to a 22-3 record and a district title.

In the third forward spot is 6-4, 215-pound senior Bob Stebbins of Livonia Franklin.

Stebbins, like Houle an All-Area football player is a player who "plays with great intensity" and was described by Patriot coach Jim McIntyre "as the backbone of the club."

Ask any opponent in the Northwest Suburban League and they'll tell you Stebbins never lets up and just keeps playing from opening tap to final buzzer.

Voted All-League, he broke the school record for rebounds in one game with 29 and excelled on the offensive end where he averaged 17 points per game.

An excellent student, he is headed to Central Michigan University on a football scholarship.

The only junior on this year's All-Area team is Belleville's "blue chip prospect," 6-4, 195-pound forward Michael Mellon.

Mellon was the leader of the Tigers' rise to the top of the Suburban 8 Conference this winter, their last in the league. Mellon was the Tigers' leading scorer with 309 points but his presence was felt on defense where he was responsible for 42 blocked shots, 44 steals and 146 rebounds.

Coach Tom Niemi is happy to have had Mellon this year and looks forward to next season when a very "coachable" Mellon will be a senior and with this year's experience behind him, and even better year awaits Niemi and the Belleville Tigers.

Getting the ball to these five prolific scorers is a small but quick Greg Gill (5-8, 140, Sr.) of Westland John Glenn. Described by one local observer this year as "the man with a thousand moves and about as many shots," Gill led the Rockets to a 14-8 record and a berth in the district finals against Salem.

Gill was voted All-NWSL for his performance this season and was the Rockets' second-leading scorer with 13.8 points per game average. His main responsibility, though, was getting the ball to his teammates and those passes were sometimes something to behold. A few times this season, the referees were caught watching in awe as Gill came up with one smooth pass after another.

These six young men who were profiled on these pages would indeed be a dream team to coach. They have the ability to play defense, ability to rebound, ability to score and move the ball on offense, but most of all, they are all winners.

Winners not just on the basketball court, but winners off the court as well. There is no doubt that these six young men — Avant, Davis, Gill, Houle, Mellon and Stebbins — have etched their names alongside those of past All-Area players and no matter what they do in their years following high school, will always be remembered for their contribution to the legend and lore that is basketball in the Western Wayne County Area.

Another Long is in the spotlight
Six players who own enviable credentials

Lights, cameras, action, drum-roll...the Associated Newspapers' All-Area Second Team Basketball Squad also takes its bow, bringing equally impressive credentials.

Like their counterparts on the First Team, they are capable of playing excellent defense coupled with an offensive prowess that any coach would love to have.

An integral part of any team is an "aircraft carrier" as Al McGuire often says, and the second team All-Area squad certainly has one in 6-8, 200-pound Paul Grazulis of Westland John Glenn.

Grazulis was the franchise for the Rockets this year as he led the team in scoring with a 14.8 points per game average.

He scored in double figures 18 of the 21 games in which he played and became the first Rocket player in four years to score 30 or more points in a game when he scored 32 against Plymouth Canton.

An excellent student, Grazulis is being recruited by several local colleges and all of this after having spent only one year of playing varsity basketball. Grazulis added a new dimension to the Rocket squad this year and was instrumental in their 14-8 season.

Next on any coach's list for a perfect team are two forwards who can rebound and score and this squad has that advantage, also. The so-called power forward slot would be tailor made for Romulus' 6-7, 185-pound Grant Long.

Long, a nephew of the Detroit Pistons' John Long, averaged 16.7 points per game, while hauling down an average 14 caroms per game. Only a junior, Long gives Romulus Coach Al Wilkerson a definite edge in putting together next year's squad.

"Long is an outstanding player and will only get better next year," commented Wilkerson.

At the other forward spot is Livonia Churchill's John Merner (6-6, 200, Sr.) who not only is an outstanding basketball player but an excellent student with a 3.9 GPA and looking at an engineering career.

Merner set a school record with a 57 percent field goal accuracy and led the team in scoring with a 17.5 ppg. He also is an excellent rebounder, averaging 11 caroms per game and helping Churchill stay alive in the tight Western Lakes Conference race. Merner was selected as All-League at the end of the season.

The fourth forward on the squad is Cherry Hill sophomore Mark Merriman (6-3, 190) who, according to Coach David Bogataj is "a comer, an excellent prospect," and one that he is "looking forward to having back next year."

Merriman was an All-League choice, the first sophomore in many years to claim that honor in the Tri-River League. He averaged 12.7 points per game and 10 rebounds and had one stretch in January where he put on a dazzling display of shooting that raised his stock considerably. Coach Bogataj and the rest of the Cherry Hill squad hopes his fine play will continue next year.

In the backcourt are two fine players — Glenn Medalle of Plymouth Salem and Tyress Wimberly of Wayne.

"Medalle," according to Salem Coach Fred Thomann, "is a dynamite scorer and is responsible for great shooting strengths." He averaged 11.5 points per game this season but his forte is defense and lent itself well to Thomann's pattern of team defense.

At the other guard spot is Wimberly, a 5-11, 155-pound senior, who "has all the skills, speed, quickness and intelligence," according to Zebras' head coach Dan Vasiloff. Wimberly scored 17.3 points per game this season and put on a dazzling performance against Glenn in mid-February that had even the Glenn fans admiring his shooting touch. His quickness paid off for him in that he averaged 3 steals per game and also made it hard for him to draw any fouls. As on local observer said during the season, "Wimberly is silky smooth."

This team has it all — an "aircraft carrier," four forwards who can be exchanged for the other and never lose the advantage, a guard who knows how to play defense and a guard who could shoot the lights out all night — that would make any coach drool at the prospect of coaching such a squad.

Westland's
Dest is in SVSC
line-up

Saginaw Valley State Collee will have a local look this season when the Cardinals hit the diamonds in hopes of improving a 1-9 mark.

In Coach Walt Head's line-up is former Westland John Glenn ace, Mike Dest.

Dest, a freshman second baseman, has earned praise from the head coach for both his defensive and offensive ability and potential.

The Cardinals managed only a 1-9 mark during the teams recent Southern swing through Georgia against top NAIA competition including Shorter College, Georgia College, and homestate rival Siena Heights.

"We definitely had a rough time down there and we do have some weak spots we'll have to work on, but I did see some very positive things," related Head.

Head was not totally crushed by the disappointing trip saying, "We had a good chance to win five other games. We were leading going into the late innings against Shorter, Georgia and Siena, but we couldn't hold a lead."

"Our major weakness right now appears to be on the infield and with the pitching staff," observed Head. "We don't have a lot of pitching depth and we absolutely have to find a stopper out of the bullpen."

One of the "positive" things was the play of senior first baseman Chris Wegener (Bay City/All Saints). The Cardinal co-captain pounded out fifteen hits, including five doubles, and one home run in 29 at bats for a team leading .517 average.

'Coach of the Year'

Inkster's Thompson is tops

Someday, somehow George Thompson Jr. will realize his one "great ambition" — the ambition of most high school basketball coaches: To win the coveted state championship.

Thompson, who has served as Inkster High's head coach for 13 years, has come close. Very close. Like this year his Vikings came within three victories of the top of the pile. Oak Park destroyed Thompson and the Vikings' dreams in the quarter-finals of the state championships.

But not before Coach Thompson managed to rack up an enviable 19-6 over-all record and finish second in the Suburban Athletic Conference, one of, if not the, toughest basketball league in the state.

For his accomplishments, The Associated Newspapers is honored by naming Thompson and its "Coach of the Year."

"We had good chemistry inside and outside on this team," Thompson said summing up the Vikings' 1982-83 assets. "They, the individual players, didn't mind if one player got all the points or the newspaper ink. They stuck together. I really feel that this team was one of the finest I have ever coached."

Thompson, 41, fired by the Board of Education three years ago when he booted several outstanding players off the team for disciplinary reasons, was reinstated by the board 1½ years ago. He has continued to demand discipline "from each and every player — no matter what his status is on this team."

"In sports and in life, there must be discipline — without it the system collapses," Thompson offered.

"All coaches know that if you let someone get away with something, if you have a double standard on your team, it inevitably will come back and haunt you."

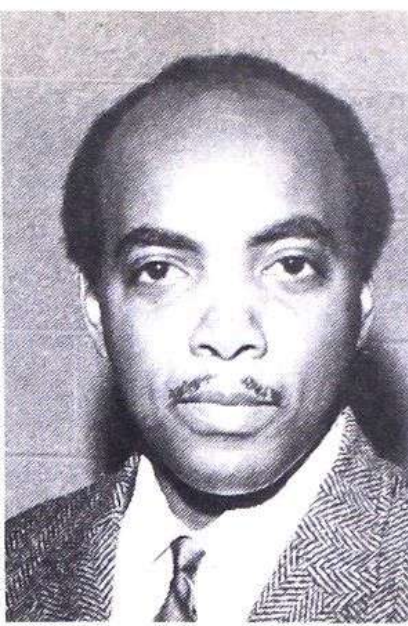

Few realize that more than 200 of Thompson's cagers have earned athletic scholarships.

"I'm really proud of that," Thompson noted: "Most of these kids wouldn't have seen the entrance to a college if they hadn't been standouts in basketball."

Thompson has had great teams, like the 1977 edition that also reached the quarter-finals before a state-title-bound Dearborn Divine Child ousted the Vikings.

Thompson believes "that one day" and "one day soon", Inkster will reign as state champ.

And there are a lot of people pulling for him.

GEORGE THOMPSON JR.

Wins 3 gold medals

Scott leaves his mark

Better remember Mark Scott's name. The 10-year-old swimmer from the Cherry Hill Swim Club is carving out quite a name for himself in AAU and Junior Olympic competition.

Mark picked up three gold medals, while two of his teammates also received medals during Olympic competition staged over the weekend at Oakland University.

Scott posted an impressive 2:38.2 in winning the 200-yard individual medley, and he also earned a gold medal when he churned a 1:26.4 for the 100-yard breaststroke. The young and aggressive swimmer wasn't finished there. He came back for a 37.2 to take the 50-yard butterfly.

"Our kids looked really good at the meet," said coach Debry Karabees. "They have put in a lot of work to prepare for this meet."

"Mark's sister, Lori, placed eighth in the 100-yard backstroke (1:14.1), while Chris Prayor, 12, earned a seventh place for his 1:29 effort in the 100-yard backstroke."

The Cherry Hill Swim Club is also seeking young swimmers and prospective members are urged to contact Coach Karabees at 722-5901 for registration. There is a $25 per person registration fee and practice sessions are conducted at the high school facility Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons.

Ten Pin Topics

The aspiring young bowlers

By JIM WRUBLEWSKI

One of the benefits of writing a column of this kind and, more importantly, having an editor who gives you a free hand while doing so, it gives you a unique opportunity of speaking out on your favorite subjects.

Fortunately, I am associated with just such an individual and therefore can write about one of my favorites — our young bowlers.

It's a pleasure watching the progress of the first year competitor, the 7-year-old with an average of 20 or 50, or the youngsters trying their hand in an adult league. Fitting into this latter category is a team of young men currently rolling in Westland Bowl's Mixed Classic on Friday nights.

The Lloyd's Standard Service team consists of four bowlers who are only 18-years-old and one that is working on his 16th year on this Earth. In this group, Brent Murch has the highest average with a 193 followed by Terry Tesarz at 192, Don Jewell and Gordon Tesarz at 189 and Rich Smith with a 176.

Prior to the start of this season the team participated in youth leagues in the area. During the summer a decision was made to not only compete on an adult level but to really find out what their capabilities are by rolling in a tougher league.

I have bowled competitively against these youngsters and personally feel they have made their mark. They are, most importantly, true competitors and gentlemen on and off the lanes. They approach the game with an intense interest in winning and at the same time keep in mind that it is a game and should be enjoyed. They dwell on losses and mistakes only long enough to learn from them and not be buried by them. As a team and as individuals they face the pressure and strive to win, and they have been successful at it.

Throughout the season they have either been at the top of the standings or within striking distance. Not too shabby for rookies!

If you want to watch these young men in action they are at Westland Bowl on Friday nights starting at 10 o'clock. You just might find it worth the effort.

Keith Swafford led scoring at Westland Bowl on games of 170-253-233 for a 756 series; Paul McMurray rolled a 277 game; and Terry Tesarz totalled 695 to lead the Mixed Classics scoring at its last session.

Lodge Lanes top shooters included Bob Goike Sr. with a 275 game and 707 series; Doug Guzal had a 267 and 701; George Fineran was at 253 and 693; Glen Koerber rolled 267 and 691; Ralph Johnson had a 277 for 682; and for the younger set, 16-year-olds, Brian Melidosian recorded a 252 game for a 656 while Dan Posegay finished with a 217.

Town "n" Country scoring included Hal Bateman tallying his second 700 series when he shot 269 for a 713 total; Ron Kokila had 254 and 673; Russ Wage finished with a 663; Jerry Boye hit a 257 game and 654 series; Bill Cohrs had 652; and Max Martin converted the difficult double pinochle (4-6-7-10 split).

Also at Town "n" Country Bill Reynolds, with a 184 average, rolled a lifetime high of 703 on games of 255-256-192; Yves Szmansky had a 278 game; Joe Bartos hit 267; Gene Glinski rolled a 265; 160 average Brenda Harper hit 223 and 596; 120 average Helen Kirsten placed a 123 triplicate on her record book; Rich Kocan had a 278 for 704; Tom Dobozy hit 253 and 685; and senior citizen Frank Doyle, with a 154 average, had a 215 game.

Super Bowl highlights included Wally Evans shooting 288 for 712; Tom Romej hit 279 and 688; Al Billings had games of 264 and 246 for a 675 series; and 158 average Sandy Mayes put together games of 218 and 214 for a 620 total.

The Classic Shooters were led by Tim Dethridge with 265 and 734; Jim Strange had a 267 game and 699 total; and Al Starks rolled a 266 game and 694 total to lead his Livonia Bowling & Trophy team to a 3,357 actual three-game series and cap this week's scoring news.

Romulus' Kurtzhals earns swim letter

Paul Kurtzhals, an Alma College freshman from Romulus, earned a varsity letter in his first season of competition for the Alma College Scots' swim team. Team members also selected Kurtzhals and senior Bob Block of Kalamazoo as the team's Most Dedicated Swimmers. The awards were announced at the team's banquet March 24.

In Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA) competition, Kurtzhals finished 11th in the 500-yard freestyle and 12th in the 1650-yard freestyle.

Paul, a 1982 graduate of Woodhaven High School, is the son of William and Judith Kurtzhals, 26720 Prescott, Romulus.

Zig Zags are tops

Hunter safety course is offered in Huron

The Wayne County Sportsman's Club is hosting a Hunter Safety course at its clubhouse, Inkster Road, between Pennsylvania and Sibley Roads.

The course is taught by instructors, certified by the State of Michigan, Hunter Safety Division.

The course is two days of instruction, starting at 9 a.m. Sat., April 9 and Sun. April 10.

The students must register between 8 a.m. and 9 a.m. on Saturday, and the course is designed for boys and girls, 12 to 17 years of age. The two day course is a must in order to pass the state's Hunter Safety examination test, and receive the Michigan certification card. The card is a must for the hunter to buy a first hunting license.

The course consists of: Bow and gun safe handling; how to sight in rifle or pistol; safety afield and in the woods; how to survive if lost in the woods; safety when duck hunting, use of a handcompass, and equipment needed for survival; breathing musts when firing a rifle or pistol; and safety equipment needed when shooting bow and arrow.

The Wayne County Sportsmans Club is hosting a handicap archery awards shoot at its clubhouse. The road entrance is on Inkster Road, between Pennsylvania and Sibley Road. The shoot is a one day event held on Sat. April 16. The archery target events are from noon to 5 p.m. Registration starts at 10 a.m.

The first two games will determine the participant's average, and the archer will compete with his peers.

A game will consist of four rounds, shooting vie arrows for each round. The next three games will be part of the archer's total score, to determine his handicap for the final shootoff. The average scores of 190 or less will receive a handicap and will shoot scratch.

The events are open to everyone who wish to compete in the handicap events.

Romulus firm offers unique 'Rent-a-Car'

Thrifty Rent-A-Car announced the availability of "The No-Smoking Car", for business and leisure rentals.

This Romulus-based new fleet will serve the growing number of non-smokers who prefer to drive in clean fresh vehicles. These cars are rented only to non-smokers and are not allowed to be smoked in even by passengers. To emphasize this rule, international no-smoking signs have been placed in ash trays and on the trunk decks. Thank you for not smoking signs have also been affixed to the doors and dash boards.

"Response around the county at other Thrift cities has been tremendous," said Doug Harrison, Vice President of Operations at Thrifty Rent-A-Car System, in Tulsa, Oklahoma. "Currently 10-15 percent of all cars in most participating cities have been designated as No-Smoking vehicles, and we are frequently renting these cars out first. Customers prefer them because they stay so extra fresh and clean inside. We believe offering the public no-smoking alternatives just makes good business sense. After all the majority of people nationwide are now non-smokers."

"Market demand is growing for no-smoking alternatives in all public areas and we are simply recognizing and responding to that national trend among the traveling public," said Harrison.

Muse Air, the world's first non-smoking airline based in Dallas, Texas has had excellent success with this concept. We have worked with Muse and have helped pioneer and perfect the no-smoking concept for the rental car industry. No-smoking and smoking cars are available at Thrifty locations in most major cities around the country and also around the world.

'Art in School' winners announced

The GFWC Belleville Junior Study Club "Arts In The Schools" project chairman, Kitty Davies, has announced the winners of the club sponsored "You GOTTA have Art" poster contest held last month for Van Buren Public School students in grades 1-6.

More than 500 entries were received from participating students at Edgemont, Savage, Haggerty, Tyler, Rawsonville and Quirk Elementary schools.

Acting as judges for the competition were Jon Hale, Principal of Edgemont Elementary, Gloria Gardner, Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs Performing Arts Department Chairman, and Kitty Davies, Belleville Junior Club project chairman.

The district-wide winners in grades 4, 5, and 6 will win cash amount gift certificates for art supplies, donated by Bentley Art Galleries of Van Buren Township. Winners in grades 1-3 will collect Binney and Smith (CRAYOLA) art boxes. Certificates of merit will be given to honorable mention class winners at each grade level.

"It was very difficult to select a winner," said Davies, who has been teaching art on a volunteer basis to Van Buren School students since September. Davies also noted that many of the entries received from the students in grades 1-3 reflected a great lack of basic skills, emphasizing the need to return art to the curriculum in the elementary school system.

First place, 6th grade, goes to Kelly Brown, of Edgemont, who submitted a colorful poster depicting a rainbow, with the phrase "Art is the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow."

First place 5th grade, goes to Savage school student Audra Kennedy, whose poster was of dancing crayons and musical instruments, stating "Art is a picture of music — Please help us find our song."

A large American Flag with "Our School Needs Art" inscribed on it was the motif chosen by Trevor Yeary, of Savage School, for his first place 4th grade entry.

Third grade winner is Philip Leslie of Savage elementary, for a poster of astronauts and space ships which says "Art is out of this world". 2nd grade award goes to Rawsonville student Chris

John McCurdy for his simple message "We Need Art."

Allen Davis, Edgemont elementary, won first place for his display of pencils, crayons and paint with the thought "Art is Good."

Honorable mention certificates of merit will go to Amy Lunde, Quirk, Joe Smith Quirk, Heather Cassell, Quirk, Becky Smith, Savage, Doreen Geesman, Savage, Ronnie Thomason, Savage, Chad Meyer, Haggerty, and Ginger Davies, Edgemont.

Prizes and Gift Certificates will be delivered through the building principals April 11, 1983, and winning posters will be on display at the Van Buren Township Hall, 46425 Tyler Road, Belleville.

NOTICE OF CLASS ACTION
and
PROPOSED SETTLEMENT

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE ALL PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE REAL PROPERTY TAXPAYERS LOCATED IN THE CITIES OF ROMULUS, RIVERVIEW AND LINCOLN PARK, AND THE TOWNSHIPS OF BROWNSTOWN, VAN BUREN, HURON AND CANTON.

INTRODUCTION

The Wayne County Circuit Court, on April 1, 1983, has ordered that this Notice be published and directed to you as a member of the Class of Plaintiffs in the above entitled certified Class Action. The Court has defined the Class as a whole, and not its individual members, consisting of all past, present, and future real property taxpayers located in the Cities of Romulus, Riverview and Lincoln Park and the Townships of Brownstown, Van Buren, Huron and Canton that have been or may be assessed, by special assessment or at large, for maintenance and repair of drains pursuant to Chapter 8 of the Drain Code of 1956, as amended.

After over six and one-half years of litigation in the Wayne County Circuit Court, Michigan Court of Appeals and the Michigan Supreme Court, and after extensive discovery, accountings and negotiations, the parties have agreed to settle this litigation subject to the Court's approval. As a member of the class, your rights are affected by the action and the settlement hereinafter described.

HISTORY OF THE LITIGATION

The treasurers of the aforesaid seven communities collected the 1975 and 1976 assessments in the approximate amount of $355,000 for maintenance and repairs of drains pursuant to Chapter 8 of the Drain Code of 1956, as amended; however, they refused to remit the collected assessments to the County of Wayne for the reason that they believed the assessments were improper in that they were not being used to reimburse the Wayne Drain Commissioner for work performed but rather they were being used in whole or in part for the administrative expenses of the Drain Commissioner's office.

On July 2, 1976, this action was filed in the Wayne County Circuit Court as a two count complaint; which challenged the validity of the aforesaid assessments and prior assessments. The Plaintiffs sought a declaration of rights, an injunction, an escrow of the collected 1975 and 1976 assessments and a refund of all improper assessments.

The Defendant's first responsive pleading was a Motion to Dismiss the lawsuit based on several grounds: (1) the Tax Tribunal was the proper court; (2) the Plaintiff treasurers of Count I lacked standing to sue; (3) the entire action was barred by a Statute of Limitations; and (4) the Wayne County Circuit Court had no jurisdiction over a class action (Count II) of this type.

After two appeals of the questions, raised by the Defendants, the Michigan

Supreme Court on July 2, 1982, affirmed the Michigan Court of Appeals and the Plaintiffs' position on all four points and ordered the matter to be tried. Thereafter, Plaintiffs commenced extensive discovery and an accounting of the drain assessments for the years 1970 through 1976 was conducted. The Plaintiffs claimed they were entitled to a refund of the improper assessments for the years 1970 through 1976 (appears to be approximately $453,000) and the Defendants denied all claims of the Plaintiffs but asserted they may be only liable for the allegedly improper assessments for the years 1975 and 1976 (appears to be approximately $108,000). Vigorous negotiations were entered into between counsel for the parties which resulted in the following described proposed settlement.

THE SETTLEMENT

The aforesaid Introduction, History and the following description of the Settlement, the pleadings and other documents in this case are only summaries. All papers pertaining to the Settlement, as well as other documents in this matter, are on file and may be examined at the office of the Clerk of the Wayne County Circuit Court located at 201 City-County Building, Detroit, Michigan, during their regular business hours.

On April 1, 1983, the Court entered its Order Confirming Class Action and Providing for Notice to the Class by Publication. Said Order and this action are governed by Michigan General Court Rule 208, as amended, as the Court found that to do so would be feasible and would not be unfair to any party. In accordance with GCR 1963 Rule 208.2(c) (3) the Court described the Class as all past, present and future real property taxpayers of the seven communities and provided for a Fluid Class Recovery.

A Fluid Class Recovery occurs when (i) there has been a significant wrong committed, (ii) the defendants have been unjustly enriched at the expense of thousands of class members who have suffered relatively small amounts of damages (most individual claims herein would not exceed $6.00), and (iii) there is no practical way of identifying the individual class members of their damages. Since damages cannot be distributed directly to the victims of the wrong, rather than permit the wrongdoing defendant to retain its allegedly illegal gain because of the practical impossibility of locating and identifying all its victims (the cost of which to each person might exceed their recovery) damages will be awarded to some broad group that, more than likely, will include most, if not all, of the injured class.

A summary of the proposed Settlement is as follows:

1. Members of the fluid Class shall only receive notice once by paid publication in a local newspaper and such notice shall be deemed to be reasonable under GCR 1963, 208.3. The cost of such notice is to be borne by the Plaintiff Class out of their settlement proceeds hereinafter described.

2. The escrowed 1975 and 1976 assessment and accrued interest thereon (approximate balance as of April 1, 1983 is $680,000), created per the Court's order of Dec. 20, 1976 and obtained by Plaintiffs' counsel, shall on the "Effective Date" (defined below) be divided between the Plaintiff Class and the Defendant County of Wayne on the following basis:

A. Plaintiff Class receives 75% of the escrowed funds subject to payment of costs and attorney's fees allowed by the Court.

B. Defendant County of Wayne receives 25% of the escrowed fund.

The Plaintiff Classes' share on the "Effective Date" shall be divided proportionately as described among the seven communities and earmarked for drain purposes only under the combined auspices of the seven communities and the Defendant Wayne County Drain Commissioner, to-wit:

City of Romulus	40.63%
City of Lincoln Park	6.12%
City of Riverview	2.61%
Township of Brownstown	22.96%
Township of Van Buren	6.73%
Township of Huron	9.22%
Township of Canton	11.73%
TOTAL	100%

"Effective Date" means the first day subsequent to the entry of the Judgment approving the Stipulation of Settlement and dismissing of this action with prejudice to Plaintiffs and the Class or against the Defendants upon which, by the lapse of time or otherwise, the Judgment shall no longer be subject to appellate review, i.e., 20 days after entry of the Judgment.

3. Each of the seven communities in cooperation with the Defendant Wayne County Drain Commissioner shall use the net proceeds (after costs and attorney fees) for drain purposes only including but not limited to cleaning, maintaining, and repairing existing drains. The fluid members of the Class in each community shall not be assessed for such costs in the future until such time as the Settlement funds are exhausted as to their own community.

4. The attorney for the Plaintiff Class, HARRY S. ELLMAN, shall apply to the Court for an attorney's fee in the amount of one-third of the Class's recovery. All legal fees previously advanced to HARRY S. ELLMAN by the seven communities under Count I of the complaint, as amended shall be reimbursed to the seven communities on the Effective Date.

5. The Defendants, the Wayne County Drain Commissioner, Wayne County Board of Commissioners, and the Wayne County Treasurer, shall be responsible for their own litigation costs and attorneys' fees incurred as a result of this action.

6. The Settlement is subject to the approval of the Court.

7. The Judgment shall bind all members of the Class who are not excluded from the action.

THE NOTICE AND ITS PURPOSE

This Notice is being published for the sole purpose of informing you of the litigation and the Settlement so that you may make appropriate decisions as to what steps, if any, you may desire to take pursuant to this Notice.

This Notice is issued pursuant to the Michigan General Court Rules which authorizes the Court to order such notice.

There will be a hearing to approve the Settlement, above described, before the Honorable John R. Kirwan, Circuit Judge, in his Courtroom located on the 18th floor of the City-County Building, Detroit, Michigan, 48226, on the 2nd day of May, 1983, at 9:00 o'clock in the forenoon.

Any member of the Class desiring to either (i) object to the Settlement either in person or through an attorney; or (ii) "opt-out" from being included in the action must on or before the 25th day of April, 1983, file one or more of the following documents with the Wayne County Clerk, 201 City-County Building, Detroit, Michigan, 48226, and serve copies thereof on the attorneys for the respective parties named below:

(1) A letter requesting to be excluded from the Class, or

(2) Notice of Appearance, and

(3) Objections to the Settlement in such detail as will apprise the Court of the nature thereof.

You or your attorney are not required to appear personally at the hearing in order to object. No member of the Class may contest the Settlement unless he or she files and serves objections in the manner provided above. Any Class member that does not do so shall be bound by the Settlement and shall be permanently barred from thereafter contesting the Settlement.

The attorneys for the Plaintiffs and the Defendants are as follows:

Attorneys for the Plaintiffs:

Law Offices of Harry S. Ellman
3000 Town Center, Suite 1444
Southfield, MI. 48075
(313) 352-8828

Attorney for the Defendant Wayne County Drain Commissioner

Detroit, Michigan 48226

This Notice and the Settlement have been approved by Resolutions passed by the Cities of Romulus, Riverview and Lincoln Park and the Townships of Brownstown, Van Buren, Huron and Canton.

Project Health-O-Rama

Seniors offered free medical check-ups

An effort to alert citizens of possible health problems and to heighten their awareness of good health is being made by the Oakwood Hospital Family Medical Center staff on Saturday, April 16, as part of "Project Health-O-Rama."

At that time, free health tests will be offered at the Family Medical Center, 19130 Sumpter Road, Belleville, between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

They are designed to detect disease during the initial stages of development, enabling early treatment and aiding in the prevention of illness.

the tests, which are for anyone over 18 years of age, include those for height and weight, blood pressure, vision, sickle cell, and a health hazard appraisal. A health history will also be offered, along with counseling and referral and instruction in self breast examination.

In addition, optional blood chemistries for cholesterol, diabetes, kidney disease, liver disease, bone disease, and gout will be available at a cost of $7. All participants should not eat four hours before taking the blood tests.

They should also know their social security number at registration time.

"Project Health-O-Rama" is sponsored by WXYZ-TV, Channel 7; Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan; and the United Health Organization, a Torch Drive Agency.

For more information, call the Family Medical Center at 699-2094.

"People expect us to be good, and we are good. When you have encouragement from your peers on the one hand, and a reputation for excellence on the other, you can't do less than your best."

Alta Gaines, R.N.

An Inside View of Nursing

Nurses at the University of Michigan Hospitals have a reputation to live up to. They are recognized among the best in their profession. But where they find challenge, they also find support. The nurses here help each other and share an enthusiasm for professional growth.

From "primary care" nursing in diverse clinical settings to pace-setting nursing research, the opportunities at U of M for developing broad-based professional expertise is unequalled. If you think that the fast-paced environment of a world-renowned patient care, education and research center is for you, we invite you to join us.

For a closer look at what U of M Hospitals has to offer your career, please call us collect at (313) 763-4600, or write to: Nurse Employment Office, University of Michigan Hospitals, 300 N. Ingalls, Box 50, Ann Arbor, MI 48109.

Being the best--the key to success

James Prendergast is a man who won't settle for less than the best — and he feels that every client of Taylor AMC JEEP RENAULT deserves precisely the same type of treatment.

Prendergast, general manager at the Telegraph Road dealership, expects clients to demand the finest in sales and service, and makes every effort to see that the dealership continues to provide just that.

"To be a successful dealer, you've got to be one of the best salesmen... ever. I always sold in excess of 50 cars a month when I was a salesman many years ago. I feel you need the proper training of sales people in all facets of selling, including product knowledge, customers follow-up — and you must know and understand advertising, marketing and merchandising. You simply must be the best there is," Prendergast explained.

His philosophy is evidently successful considering the sale of up to 250 new cars a month and between 15 and 80 used vehicles monthly at Taylor AMC. In addition, Prendergast cites the enormous inventory that is available to buyers at Taylor AMC JEEP RENAULT. Presently, Prendergast explained, the inventory at the dealership exceeds $4 million — "the largest along the strip here and the largest of any AMC Jeep dealer in the country."

Prendergast is a man who speaks with the authority that only 30 years in the automotive business can provide. A native of Boolavogue, Ireland which is in County Wexford in Southern Ireland, he operated two car dealerships in his native country along with later dealerships in both England and Canada.

"I've had many dealerships where they were at rock bottom when I got them and within months, I've gotten them to all-time record highs. That's what we did with this place. This is now the largest AMC/JEEP/RENAULT franchise in the United States," Prendergast said with obvious pride.

And as for reasons to buy the automobiles that he is selling, Prendergast has no hesitation in explaining that, in his opinion, he sells nothing but the best.

"We are the king of four-wheel drive. We have more four-wheel drive technology and engineering than any other manufacturer in the world. We have the four-wheel drive market down to a fine science," he continued. "We outsell all the other car manufacturers in four-wheel drive four to one," he added.

"And, the Renault was the first company into the production of four-wheel drives and they sell and manufacture more four-wheel drives than any other car company in the world — There are well-known facts," Prendergast noted with authority.

He is also extremely proud of the service offered at the dealership, something he also credits with building Taylor into the successful company it has become. "We have the Buyer Protection Plan on AMC and Renault products which is the best warranty in the automotive industry. We are the only car company that gives a free loaner to the general public should their car be off the road for repairs overnight after 5 o'clock in the evening. We also pay for a customer's out-of-pocket expenses and overnight accommodations should their car have a breakdown while under warranty," he explained.

The staff at Taylor AMC JEEP RENAULT includes six men and six women who sell new cars and five used car salespeople. The total staff, including mechanics, apprentices and management totals 70 employees.

And those employees are all kept very busy by the increasing success and buyer traffic at the dealership which, according to Prendergast, is increasing in sales each day.

"The reason it's getting better for us is that we merchandise, advertise and market everything to the very last degree. We spend an average of $30 a month on advertising."

"I feel that regardless of the downturn in the economy, if one works at it and markets and merchandise properly, that there are still 80 percent of the people employed and that's more than adequate to sell a very large number of automobiles."

"Things are getting better and better for us every day, and have been since the middle of last year," Prendergast commented proudly.

Prendergast would very much like to see any potential buyers at his establishment. "I'd tell everyone to come to Taylor AMC/JEEP/RENAULT for the best new or used car deal in the United States today. We have the largest new and used car inventory, we'll offer you the highest possible trade-in on any used car, truck, van or Jeep on four wheels and give you on-the-spot financing at 11.9 percent over 48 months."

"And add this — should any customer have any problem at any time, they should feel free to call me. I'm here during normal business hours," he added with a smile.

He surely has found the key to customers' hearts.
